This Wolf Howls Strangely.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

SECRETARY MELLON tells the House of Representatives controlled by Democrats "we are in the midst of a great emergency, and extra money must be raised by extra taxation, to balance the budget." This means that somebody, principally those that have substantial incomes, will have to pay one thousand three hundred and ten millions more in 1932 than they did in 1931. It also means adding 1,700,000 Americans to the number of taxpayers. The new recruits will not enjoy that.

Secretary Mellon also advocates a sales tax.

THIS NECESSITY of raising suddenly more than thirteen hundred million dollars in taxes, emphasizes the fact that this, biggest, richest government, in any emergency, is at the mercy of financial institutions created by itself.

SECRETARY MELLON says the people must be taxed so heavily "to preserve the credit of the United States government."

The government which makes all the money for everybody else, pouring out hundreds of millions through the Federal Reserve Bank, when needed, cannot make any money for ITSELF. It must borrow from banks and citizens as you would do. And when financiers are not lending, the government with all its credit is helpless to get money, just as the City of New York that has twenty thousand millions in real estate to offer as security, cannot borrow.

PERHAPS SOME financial genius will enable the United States government to use its credit, its absolutely unlimited resources. The wealth upon which its yearly income of A HUNDRED BILLIONS is based, without having to borrow from discouraged finance.

This government, in all, owes only a little more than twenty billions, and the country's annual income is a hundred billions. Bankers are not to blame for refusing to buy all the securities that rational and the city governments would like to sell.

They can only buy from government what the people will buy from them. But imagine a man worth two millions finding it difficult to borrow more than $20,000. That is the position of this country, its income 5 per cent on two thousand billions, finding it hard to borrow a little more than twenty billions.

No ordinary business could live if its credit were thus restricted.

The government should find a way to extend its credit and get money when it wants it.

THE HONOLULU crime sensation commands the attention of the national government. Five Hawaiians, accused of attacking the wife of a United States Navy officer, were discharged because a local jury did not agree.

The woman had been horribly ill-treated, bruised from head to foot, her jaw broken. After a jury disagreement, one of the five, alleged to be the ring leader of the outrage, was murdered. His body was found in the possession of the mother and husband of the woman attacked, and they are to be tried for murder.

TO PROTECT THEM from the native mob, they were taken on board of an American battleship, but orders have been given to return them for trial to the local authorities, which, in the view of public opinion, seems a little dangerous.

A disagreeable feature of this unpleasant case is the fact that two enlisted men of the Navy were apparently taken into the confidence of those that planned the murder, and made accessories to the murder, if they did not actually engage in it. The subordinate position of these sailors made it difficult for them to refuse an officer's order, or request, and great responsibility rests upon those that led them into such disgrace.

UNEMPLOYED WOMEN of Brisbane, Australia, indignant at the refusal of the minister of labor to meet them and discuss their grievances, declare that they will march naked through the streets of the city, by way of protest.

The city police are disturbed because the unemployed women are so numerous that it would be impolsible to arrest them all, or prevent their naked parade.

This news would interest the late Sir Thomas Brisbane, who established that city in Australia and built his astronomical observatory there.

THE IDEA of the ladies of Brisbane is not new. Such parades have been carried out by men and women of the Doukhobor sect in Russia and Canada. A naked parade would certainly concentrate public attention on conditions against which it protests.

A BIG TIMBER WOLF in New York's zoological garden howls every week day between 12 and 1, other wolves imitating him. But he positively will not howl on Sunday. This interests those who remember the good saint who converted the wolf, and the "holy spring" that flowed abundantly six days a week and dried up on the Sabbath.

Some cynic suggests that the wolf doesn't howl on Sundays because that is the one day when no food is given to him. Others say he stops howling on Sunday because he does not hear the noon time factory whistles that stimulate his howling. It is easy to be cynical. Much more interesting to believe.

Bunyan believed that the hen

Candidacy Announced by Brown; Move Launched To Obtain Delegates

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(AP.)—Postmaster General Brown announced today that President Hoover was a candidate for renomination on the Republican ticket.

The Postmaster General, who in political circles is considered the most likely successor to Senator Pess as chairman of the Republican National Committee, said that local conditions would be met in each state as to methods of entering the President's name in the races for delegates. He declared:

"The only way President Hoover can be renominated is to get delegates to the convention. There are about 20 or 30 different methods by which these delegates are selected, and the President's friends will conform to these methods in the different states."

He said no decision had been reached as to whether Mr. Hoover's name would be entered in the North Dakota primary on March 1. He declared:

"No decision will be reached in these matters until the time comes for action. When that times comes prompt action will be taken."

Smith Likely to Announce Candidacy in Boston

BOSTON, Jan. 14.—(INS.)—As the train from New York carrying ex-Gov. Alfred E. Smith entered New England today, a police detail of 40 uniformed policemen and plain clothesmen was assigned as a guard for his arrival.

Smith will speak here tonight at one of 50 dinners being held by Democrats throughout the country to launch a $1,500,000 "fighting fund." The New York Sun said Smith would announce his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for President.

The police guard was in anticipation of a possible demonstration, although he had sent word in advance that he did not wish a parade such as marked the tossing of his hat into the presidential race in 1928.

Roosevelt Brands Smith Slur 'Lie'

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 14.—(AP.)—Franklin D. Roosevelt, Governor of New York and potential Democratic presidential nominee, labeled as a "contemptible liar" the persona circulating a report that he called his Democratic predecessor, Alfred E. Smith, a "rotten Governor."

The remark is attributed to Roosevelt in a current issue of a weekly magazine by an anonymous author, who carried the remark as an unsubstantiated rumor.

American Writers Flying to Africa

Ruth Rejects $10,000 Cut In 1932 Pay

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—(INS.)—Babe Ruth received a new one-year contract today offering him $70,000 to play ball for the Yankees in 1932. He put the contract in his pocket and went out to play golf.

His salary last year was $80,000. Ruth's comment was:

"The $70,000 sounds O. K. provided it is for two years. But it happens to be one year and that does not make it O. K. But I'm not worrying about it and you'll have to excuse me because I've got to play golf with a guy that I think I can beat, and he likes to play for $5 a round."

He added:

"I think I'm worth the other $10,000. I think they're carrying this cutting business too far and making a joke of it."

The reduction was less than had been anticipated by the guessers. Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yankees, was credited in some quarters with showing unusual liberality toward Ruth.

What Ruth is most anxious to get is a long-term contract at a fancy wage. It is believed if he could get a three-year contract for $150,000—a salary of $60,000 per year—he would be fully satisfied.

MILD WEATHER BREAKS RECORD

With signs of spring multiplying, the mercury jumped to the upper sixties this afternoon, breaking all heat records for this date. The previous high temperature was 62 in 1899. A thermometer exposed to the sun on the roof of the Oliver Building registered 90.

Rain is predicted late tonight or tomorrow, with a moderate drop in temperature tomorrow afternoon. The low mark over night was 51. Forecaster W. S. Brotzman said:

"The unusual January weather has been equalled in only one other year, 1880. In that year January was warm all the way through."

Spring plowing, rouns, snakes and budding shrubs were among the indications of spring reported from different parts of the county.

Chicago Doctor, 95, Housekeeper Elope

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—(INS.)—Cupid's darts today found their mark in the heart of a 95-year-old physician, Dr. Hammond Lindgren, who claims to be Chicago's oldest native.

Despite the aged doctor's shy denials, it was learned today that he eloped with his housekeeper, Mrs. Bertha Skawron, 42.

RANKIN GAS EXPLOSION CONFESSED

Jobless Man Admits Plot To Collect $2,000 Policy; Two Injured in Blaze

A 39-year old laborer who hadn't worked for two years confessed today, police say, that he had caused the gas explosion which shortly after last midnight destroyed his home, ruined another and tossed a dozen or more families from their beds in Rankin.

Two were injured—a girl struck by a flying brick and a woman who was dropped out of a second-story window by her husband to escape the flames which later destroyed their house.

Ralph Giordano

Ralph Giordano, of 20 Miller street, told the police, they say, that he wanted to collect $2,000 insurance on the house. He was sitting in a cell in the Rankin Police Station when the blast, heard for miles round, shook the neighborhood.

He said he had an argument with his wife last night. While she was telephoning police from a neighbor's house to come and arrest him for disorderly conduct, he was, so police reported, in the cellar of their two-story frame house planting a lighted candle near a gas hot-plate, which he turned on.

Two hours later the candle ignited the gas, while Giordano,

LINK MELLON OIL DEAL TO LOAN

Colombia Received Financial Succor After Granting Concession, House Told

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(AP.)—The name of Secretary Mellon was linked today with testimony involving the granting of an oil concession by Colombia to an American concern immediately after a large loan had been made by American bankers to that country.

At the same time, Secretary Mellon was charged with using his control of public buildings to further the use of aluminum and criticized because of large tax refunds "to such corporations as the Gulf Oil Company, and the Aluminum Company."

While the Senate Finance Committee was seeking information from the State Department which might tie the two transactions together, Representative Patman in his impeachment efforts was charging that Secretary Mellon had a hand in influencing the loan.

CONCESSION GRANTED

Testimony before the Senate committee already has brought out that the State Department sought to influence American bankers to make the loan to Colombia. It was told today that the Barco oil concession was granted to the South American Petroleum Company, in which the Mellon-owned Gulf Oil Company is largely interested, on June 20 of 1931, and that the loan was made on June 30.

Senator Johnson, of California, demanded of the State Department documents that might be in its hands relating to the transaction. Department officials offered to give them to him in confidence, but he refused to accept them in that way.

LETTER QUOTED

Patman, a Texas Democrat, in bringing his charges against Mellon, quoted a letter from a South American saying President Olaya Herrera, of Colombia, had announced publicly Mellon would assist in the credit extension of petroleum difficulties were settled. The letter said:

"In the conversation the President of Colombia spoke about the situation in his country, to

HEIRESS KILLER GETS 20 YEARS

FLINT, Mich., Jan. 14.—(AP.)—Miss Helen Joy Morgan, 27-year-old heiress, was convicted today of second degree murder for the slaying last April 23 of Leslie Casteel, her garage-mechanic sweetheart, and immediately was sentenced to serve from 20 to 25 years in prison. She remained calm as sentence was pronounced.

Casteel was shot to death on a lonely road near a cemetery. Miss Morgan told the police she shot him as they struggled for possession of a pistol with which he had threatened her while they sat in an automobile.

MAYOR'S TRIAL ACTION RUSHED

With the State Supreme Court meeting today in Philadelphia, Mayor Charles H. Kline probably will know before Saturday whether his petition for a change of venue in his trial on malfeasance charges has been granted.

District Attorney Andrew T. Park's answer to the Mayor's application was received in Philadelphia yesterday. The high court jurists are expected to return an early decision, which, if against the Mayor and his co-defendant, B. L. Succop, deposed director of supplies, will allow the trial to proceed next Tuesday in Allegheny County courts.

Today's meeting is the weekly conference of the Supreme Court. The return date on the petition was originally January 21, but the jurists are expected to take into consideration the fact that trial witnesses have been subpenaed for Tuesday.

If the Mayor's petition is granted, the trial will be delayed.

STATE ACTS IN $250,000 SHORTAGE

Embezzlement Charged to Ex-President of Closed Franklin Savings and Trust

C. A. Bardolph, president of the closed Franklin Savings and Trust Company, was arrested today charged with embezzling $250,000 of the bank's funds, on information made before Alderman T. A. Flanigan by George F. Taylor, Jr., deputy state secretary of banking.

Bond of $10,000 was posted in behalf of the accused banker by the Globe Indemnity Company, pending a hearing before Flanigan February 15.

Charles B. Prichard, counsel for Bardolph, commented:

"These charges grow out of business transactions. I don't think we are in a position to say anything until we study the details."

The arrest took place outside the quarters of the state banking department, Commonwealth Building, where Bardolph was the only witness at the morning session of a hearing before Taylor today into affairs of the closed bank.

ARRANGES BOND

The charge is a general one under the common law and has to do with Bardolph's transactions as head of the bank over a period of three years.

Attending the hearing, which was behind closed doors, were Assistant District Attorney H. R. Phillips, indictment expert, and John D. Houston, wholesale grocer, who is representing a committee of stockholders and depositors. Houston, whose charges last year caused an investigation of the city's Bureau of Supplies, took no part in the questioning.

According to reports following the session, Bardolph refused to answer many questions put by Taylor on the ground that to do so might incriminate him.

FRIEDMAN QUESTIONED

Herman Friedman, second mortgage dealer and indorser of notes for Roy D. Schooley, indicted former City Treasurer, was questioned at this afternoon's session by J. H. W. Simpson, one of two appraisers working on the assets of the bank as to the value of mortgages posted by him as security for loans.

Friedman was to be followed by R. T. Armstrong, vice president of the bank, and F. F. Nicola, real estate operator.

A hearing on the closed bank's dealings with Schooley is set for January 25 before Taylor.

Indicted Realtor Asks Particulars

La Salle Girts, Oakland realtor, indicted on a conspiracy charge, today had on record in Criminal Court a petition asking that District Attorney Andrew T. Park be required to file a bill of particulars in his case. Girts was indicted, along with former City Treasurer Roy D. Schooler and Arthur Burgoyne, investigator for Schooley, in the probe of the Treasurer's office.

Blue Ridge Society Hunts Slayer of Two Women

MIDDLEBURG, Va., Jan. 14.—(INS.)—Society leaders of the Blue Ridge country today abandoned the fox hunt for a man hunt and joined in a search for the slayer in the bootjack murder of pretty Mrs. Spencer Ilsley, widow, social leader and horsewoman, of Washington, New York and Milwaukee, and her elderly maid, Mrs. Anne Buckner, of Rockville, Md.

Police believe George Crawford, a drink-crazed Negro, ex-convict, who has disappeared since the murder, killed Mrs. Ilsley, bent on revenge. He used to work for her. She swore out a warrant against him charging burglary after a valuable watch, jewel case and overcoat were stolen from her house about Christmas. Crawford was man of all work in the Ilsley household for several months.

Washington police reported they had discovered the automobile stolen from Mrs. Ilsley's house early yesterday, after the murder.

Leading in the hunt was Gen. Billy Mitchell, former Army Air Corps chief, a neighbor of Mrs. Ilsley. Other neighbors include John Hay (Jock) Whitney and Mr. and Mrs. David K. E. Bruce, the former Ailsa Mellon, a daughter of Secretary Mellon. His son, Paul, also owns a big stock farm nearby.

PINCHOT MEETS MUNICIPAL GROUPS ON RATE STRUGGLE

COMMISSIONER SCORES HIGH CHARGES

Score of Counties Send Delegation to Harrisburg To Map Legislative Fight

HARRISBURG, Jan. 14.—Representatives of municipalities from more than a score of counties met here today with Gov. Pinchot to fight for lower utility rates at legislation.

The meeting, arranged by John M. Walsh, the Governor's special counsel in utility matters, was to determine whether the municipalities of the state would support a move for legislative changes made in the existing methods of regulating public utilities. Gov. Pinchot was to address the session.

Public Service Commissioner George W. Woodruff, who earlier in the week [illegible] deavored to [illegible] adopt a [illegible] declared [illegible] before the session [illegible]

"Utilities have no more legal and moral right to heap as high rates on the public as they can and try to escape regulation by the slowness and inefficiency of the law than any citizen has to cheat and steal and murder because he believes he can escape arrest or avoid conviction and punishment.

Woodruff said although his resolution failed this week it will be followed up vigorously and continually. He predicted that the fight to lower utility rates will be effective.

Proposed Rate Schedule Would Bring Saving

Pittsburgh domestic consumers would save the average of 26 to 56 cents monthly on the uniform electric rates that Gov. Pinchot today was proposing to force the Public Service Commission to adopt in his stand against utilities which charge excessive rates.

Leaders from the Pittsburgh district at the meeting in Harrisburg today included A. B. Davidson, of Tarentum, council president, and president of the Western Pennsylvania Fair Rate Association; Councilman H. V. Day of Monongahela, Mayor Joseph A. Heineman of Butler and Harry W. Wohlwend of Greentree.

A table of comparisons revealed the monthly differences between the present rates and those proposed by Commissioner Woodruff, as follows:

WALSH URGED FOR HIGH COURT

By GEORGE E. HOLMES
International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(INS.)—President Hoover is seriously considering the appointment of Senator Thomas J. Walsh (Dem.), of Montana, to the vacancy on the United States Supreme Court bench caused by the retirement of Oliver Wendell Holmes, "the Great Liberal."

The principal reason the President is giving such serious consideration to Senator Walsh is that—oddly enough—Republican leaders of the Senate are backing him almost to a man. By telephone and personal interview during the past 24 hours they have importuned Mr. Hoover to appoint him.

It has been pointed out that Walsh won undying renown by his vigorous prosecution of the oil scandals, which Mr. Hoover so vehemently denounced at the grave of Warren G. Harding.

There is no dearth of other candidates. President Hoover already has almost a score of names on his desk—Senator Borah of Idaho, Judge Benjamin N. Cardozo of New York, Judge William S. Kenyon, of Iowa, George W. Wickersham, John W. Davis, Attorney General William D. Mitchell, and many others.

4 PER CT. BEER URGED AT QUIZ

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(INS.)—Return of real beer was urged today by three Republican Congressmen.

Appearing before the Metcalf Senate Committee hearing on a bill to legalize 4 per cent beer, all three agreed it would help to restore prosperity, alleviate hard drinking and end the reign of the racketeers.

Representative Maas, of Minnesota, said:

"It would put to work in excess of 1,000,000 men."

Representative Baldridge, of Nebraska, said:

"It would change us from a nation of hard drinkers to a nation like Germany, drinking wholesome beer."

Representative Cooke, of New York, said:

FORD RECALLS SHOALS BID

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(AP.)—Edsel Ford told the House Military Committee today that his father, Henry Ford, no longer is interested in leasing Muscle Shoals.

Ford was in conference with the committee behind closed doors for nearly two hours. Several years ago Ford made a bid for the huge $150,000,000 project on the Tennessee River in Alabama.

Ford's appearance before the committee was surrounded with secrecy. Members had promised his presence in Washington would not be disclosed.

Ford's bid for Muscle Shoals was never approved by Congress.

JUDGE SCORES BOY CRIMINALS

Visiting Judge C. M. Culver, of Bradford County, sentencing three young criminals to Western Penitentiary today in Criminal Court, told them:

John Sulowski, of 46 South Nineteenth street, is 19; Anthony Wyzykowski, of 1719 Wharton street, is 17, and John Dobrzanski, of 177 South Sixteenth street, is 18.

They pleaded guilty to stealing an auto and holding up Charles Dombrowski, 27, of the West End, then leaving him lying along the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks in Edwards way. A train severed both his legs.

Sulowski was sentenced 9 to 19 years, Dobrzanski 5 to 10 years and Wyzykowski to 6 to 12 years.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 14.—(INS.)—Her anguish was worth only one cent, Philadelphia's Common Pleas Court decided. This was the value yesterday placed on the "mental anguish, humiliation and embarrassment" averred by Katherine Nattore in her $10,000 heart-balm suit against Vincent Testoni, 32-year-old Philadelphia Italian.

MELLON'S PLAN FACES CHANGES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(INS.)—The Mellon plan to raise $920,000,000 in new taxes today faced extensive revision by the House Ways and Means Committee, but the Republican administration and House Democratic leaders appeared to be moving nearer an agreement in the budget-balancing program.

The Treasury proposals were made the basis of the hearings which will continue for 10 days, while Democratic leaders are formulating the details of their own tax boost plan.

Virtually no controversy developed over the Treasury's recommendation that the maximum surtax rate on big incomes be doubled. But the further proposal that exemption bars be lowered to hit taxpayers with small incomes was coolly received by the Democrats.

The Democratic majority on the committee also bowed to the Treasury's recommendation that certain sales taxes be imposed, but divergence of opinion appeared over the articles to be included.

LOAN LINKED WITH MELLON OIL DEAL

which Mr. Mellon said that if he would arrange the petroleum business difficulties in Colombia, that Colombia would develop itself into a much better credit condition, letting him understand that he in turn would help Colombia in coming out of the crisis it was going through."

Patman said:

"In view of his position as Secretary of the Treasury and his connection with the Gulf Oil Company, if a foreign country has granted them a special concession you can see where the Secretary of the Treasury could reciprocate the favor."

He withheld the name of the author of the letter.

Patman opened his second day of argument before the House Judiciary Committee on his resolution to impeach the Treasury chief by exhibiting a copy of the Federal Architect, a Treasury publication. Patman asserted:

"It is no secret that Mellon controls the Aluminum Company of America and it is known that when aluminum is used there is no chance of competition.

"This publication tells outside architects what will please the Secretary of the Treasury. It tells them in no uncertain terms how to use aluminum."

As on the opening day, Mellon's two representatives, A. W. Gregg and D. D. Shepard were present. Patman continued:

"Mr. Mellon was not in office long before he granted himself large tax refunds. No man should be placed in a position where he serves both himself and the United States government.

"I would not criticize in the least the refund on his personal tax payments, but it is different when millions are refunded to such corporations as the Aluminum and Gulf Oil Company."

Representative LaGuardia (Rep.), of New York, asked:

"I take it you are not questioning the ability of the official administering tax laws for 120,000,000 people to make a correct return for himself."

Patman replied:

"Well, he has made some very large errors."

Meanwhile, before the Senate's foreign bond investigation, a demand was made that the State Department make public secret instructions sent its representatives while American bankers were holding up a loan to Colombia.

It came from Senator Johnson, while department officials were explaining to the Senate Finance Committee the details of its activities in behalf of the loan.

At the same time the loan was made, the Gulf Oil Company received the concession from the Colombian government involving 500,000 acres of what Johnson said had been described as the "most valuable oil lands in the world."

Assistant Secretary White, of the State Department, told Johnson he might see the documents privately, but Johnson refused and demanded that they be produced this afternoon.

ATTACHE INSTRUCTED

A letter from the commerce department to an American commercial attache at Lima, Peru, telling him to "be encouraging whenever possible" was presented to the committee.

The letter was submitted by Oliver Townsend, former attache at Lima, who received it from Thomas R. Taylor, assistant director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce. Taylor wrote:

"We are builders, promoters, even propagandists. It is my impression that you are overalarmed about a temporary trade condition that has slowed up business, but should not preclude all consideration of American sales to Peru."

At about this time, loans of $100,000,000, which are now in default, were being made to Peru by American bankers.

CANCEL DEBTS, DUCE REPEATS

MILAN, Jan. 14.—(AP.)—Italy's policy for the Lausanne conference was indicated today through the medium of an editorial in the Popolo D'Italia by Premier Mussolini, calling on Europe to cancel reparations demands and assuring that in such a case the United States would refuse to appear as the only "profiteer of the war." The editorial said:

"Face to face with the act of a Europe which had demonstrated its conquest of the sense of distinction between victor and vanquished, the United States would not have the courage to insist on payment of war debts due her."

The editorial, the second in three days in which Il Duce has outlined Italian policies, was not signed, but, like the former one, was definitely known to have been written by him. It was spread prominently across the first page of the paper, then picked up by other newspapers throughout the country and broadcast to the world by press organizations.

In a former editorial, printed Tuesday, he said "forced tribute" was being exacted from Germany and debtor nations.

ELSIE JANIS, 42, WEDS MAN, 26

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., Jan. 14.—(AP.)—Elsie Janis, brightener of the rainy days of '18 in France who mimicked her way to fame as a child and remained single for 42 years, is a bride. She was married on New Year's Eve to Gilbert Wilson, a Los Angeles business man of 26 years.

The ceremony was performed by Police Judge Daniel Dwyer in the office of Mayor Eugene H. Lehman, of Tarrytown. It was Lehman who revealed it today. The actress said at her home:

"I've never had a husband and he has never had a wife, so we both can start from scratch.

"This being my debut on the stage of matrimony, some may wonder why I took a husband 16 years younger than myself. Well, I've never had a child. Now I have combined a husband and child in one."

"And don't forget, I was married before leap year."

MAN CONFESSES CAUSING BLAST

who police quoted as admitting he had been drinking, sat in his cell.

To Police Chief Michael Jordan Giordano insisted he was innocent until the police put his wife and 16-year-old son in an adjoining cell.

None of the Giordano family was in the house when the blast occurred. Neither were Mr. and Mrs. Tony Gravandi, who live on the second floor.

WOMAN RESCUED

In the rear, Tony Cuccero, Jr., hurled from bed by the explosion, dropped his wife, Mrs. Rosie Cuccero, recently a patient at Braddock General Hospital, out the window, then jumped to the street. Her side was injured.

Fire which followed the explosion spread from the Giordano's, which was left in ruins, and destroyed the Cuccero house. Flying debris damaged the adjoining house of John Peterson.

Aroused by the blast, 16-year-old Mary Festa ran from her nearby home to the street and was struck by a flying brick. Other debris spread over Miller street and blocked street cars.

Giordano was to be taken to county detectives' headquarters today to sign a confession.

BATTLE THREAT FRIGHTENS PEIPING

Panic Near Among Chinese As Japanese Garrison Unleashes Machine Guns

By JOHN GOETTE
International News Service.

PEIPING, Jan. 14.—Foreign military circles and Chinese officials today feared consequences after a panic last night among the Chinese was narrowly averted when troops from the Japanese garrison threatened to hold sham battles in the most crowded sections of Peiping.

Martial law was immediately established to enable authorities to maintain order after reports spread like wildfire that the Japanese were to stage the maneuvers.

U. S. COMMANDANT ANNOYED

American Marines reported Japanese soldiers rushed from their quarters yelling and dragging machine guns into the streets in a manner calculated to impress the Chinese populace that they were about to turn loose.

Gen. Breckenbridge, commandant of the American Legation Guard, expressed annoyance to his Japanese colleague over the failure to inform him of the maneuvers.

Voshizawa Takes Office As Foreign Minister

TOKIO, Jan. 14.—(INS.)—Kenchiki Yoshizawa, formerly Japanese ambassador to France, was inducted into the office of foreign minister tonight at a colorful ceremony in the Imperial Palace.

Just prior to the ceremony Yoshizawa expressed the conviction to International News Service that the period of Japanese military activity in Manchuria had ended. He explained:

"It is now a question of establishing a new government there."

Meanwhile dispatch of Japan's reply to the American note invoking the nine-power treaty and the Kellogg pact in connection with the Manchurian situation has been delayed until tomorrow for further study by Premier Inukai, it was announced today.

The reply, originally to have been sent today, will declare Japan has not violated her treaties regarding Manchuria.

China Ready to Demand Action from League

SHANGHAI, Jan. 14.—(INS.)—The new Chinese government struck out boldly today in its first announcement regarding the Manchurian situation, stating it was ready either to demand a new Washington conference in international affairs or invocation of Article XVI of the League of Nations covenant formally declaring Japan an aggressor nation "in an act of war."

The government's position was made known in a formal statement by Eugene Chen, minister for foreign affairs.

Mother Held Head Of Car Theft Ring

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 14.—Mrs. Eunice W. Schwertfeger, 38, of Richmond, O., today joined her daughter, Mrs. Mary E. Yarnell, in the Ohio County Jail, where the latter is held under $50,000 bond. They are under federal indictments charging conspiracy to violate the motor theft act.

Department of Justice agents brought Mrs. Schwertfeger, who, they allege, is the head of a nationwide motor theft ring back from Oklahoma. The officers said 32 members of the ring are already serving terms.

raised her face to heaven, in gratitude to her Creator every time she swallowed water. Cold science says that she does that because her mouth has no power of suction and she cannot get the water down without lifting her beak in the air.

SCIENTIFIC WONDERS never weary. Experiments in Arizona show that the earth is constantly bombarded by microscopic meteors, some traveling 100 miles per second. That seems fast, but is slow compared with the speed of light, also an aggregation of "corpuscular meteors" that travel 186,000 miles per second.

The tiny 100-mile per second meteors striking our earth are so small they don't hurt us. Perhaps they do us good.

Pinchot Asks State Council To Aid Trade Recovery

HARRISBURG, Jan. 14.—(AP.)—Gov. Pinchot today told the Greater Pennsylvania Council at its organization meeting that the greatest problem confronting it is that of business recovery.

The council comprises 150 members of whom 15 represent the executive committee. Dr. Ralph D. Metzel, president of Pennsylvania State College, is chairman, and Dr. Charles Bertell, Pittsburgh, executive secretary.

The Governor today appointed three additional members of the council, George D. MacBeth, Pittsburgh; S. Perry Lamoke, York, and F. P. Willis, Ward, Delaware County.

In his address, Gov. Pinchot said:

"Since it is the immediate need of the time, I suggest that you give your prompt and earnest support to the problems of business recovery, that you attempt to develop a more wholesome outlook and a healthier tone throughout our economic order. The building of a spirit of courage and faith in Pennsylvania's possibilities is as essential to prosperity as are the scientific plans and projects that you will develop."

He said bituminous coal mines in Pennsylvania are idle, even though nearest the great coal markets, while coal from southern fields is shipped through Pennsylvania or around Pennsylvania to these points.

Chinese 'Joan of Arc' Harasses Japanese

LONDON, Jan. 14.—(INS.)—A modified Chinese Jeanne D'Arc, mounted upon a white palfrey, has appeared in Manchuria, the Daily Herald stated today.

The girl, her identity shrouded in mystery, heads a miniature army of Chinese bandits, whose fury, the dispatch says, Japanese troops have felt at least several times in swooping raids on towns in Kaiyuan province.

Exercising a remarkable influence over her following, the girl has managed to temper their belligerence so that no outrages have been committed against women and children in the attacks of the band.

The girl general is said to be constantly alert for battle with the Japanese guards, and has invariably led her cohorts to minor victory with few casualties.

The small army, consisting of about 400 men, is said to be well equipped and well drilled. Mystery surrounds its origin.

EX-KAISER NOT TO SEE SISTER BURIED

Former Queen of Greece Dies After Long Illness; Funeral to Be in Italy

FRANKFORT-ON-MAIN, Germany, Jan. 14.—(AP.)—Former Queen Sophie of Greece, sister of former Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany, who died here last night at the age of 61, will be buried at Florence, Italy, beside her husband, the late King Constantine.

The former Queen married in Athens in 1889, had been ill for a long time. Monday she suddenly grew worse.

The former Kaiser telegraphed his condolences today, adding that he had appointed his second son, Eitel Friedrich, to represent him at the services next Sunday at Friedrichshof Castle. He himself is suffering from an obstinate attack of bronchitis. He is 72.

TRIP REFUSED ONCE

It was reported several days ago that he had caused tentative overtures to be made to the Dutch government for permission to visit his sister before she died, but the government had refused to authorize such a trip.

Members of the Greek royal family, who were at the former Queen's bedside when she died included her children, former King George II, former Queen Helen of Rumania, Prince Paul and Princess Irene and Catherine.

FATE CHECKS CAREER

A brilliant future seemed to be in store for Sophia Dorothea Ulrica Alice, sister of the German Emperor, when she was married to Constantine, King of the Hellenes, at Athens on October 27, 1889.

Fate decreed otherwise. Driven from the Royal Palace, widowed in 1923 under sad circumstances, the Kaiser's sister died almost forgotten by the world.

Ill-fortune, after brightest promises, dogged the life of this daughter of the House of Hohenzollern as it did that of her elder sister, Victoria, who a few years ago married Alexander Zoubkoff, a Russian much younger than she, and died destitute and alone, in a Bonn hospital.

GIRL, WOMAN KILL SELVES, THIRD FAILS

Domestic Ends Life in Home Of Employer; Mail Order Bride's Suicide Try Fails

A woman and girl ended their lives and a second woman attempted suicide, reports to police and the county morgue, disclosed today.

The suicide victims are Mary Hurzon, 17, of Avella, and Mrs. Hannah Tracy, 49, of 215 Pacific avenue, McKeesport.

Mrs. Georgia Pearl, 47, of 526 Avery street, was confined to the Allegheny General Hospital as a result, police said, of two suicide attempts within a few hours.

Attired in her best clothes and with photographs of several admirers grouped nearby, Miss Hurzon, a domestic, was found dead in her bed at the home of her employer, Steve Smollen, 206 Wall avenue, Wall. A revolver, one cartridge fired, was in her hand and a bullet wound was found near her heart. The girl had been despondent, morgue attaches said.

KISSES CHILD GOODBYE

A short time before the shooting, Miss Hurzon talked with John Smollen, 10, and said:

"Give me a kiss, because you'll never see me again."

Later a pistol shot attracted members of the household to her room.

Slipping away from her daughter with whom she had been sleeping early today, Mrs. Tracy is said to have thrown herself beneath a Pittsburgh and Lake Erie freight train at the Erie street crossing, McKeesport. Relatives said she had been ill for several months.

She leaves her husband, Isaac; a daughter, Hazel, 20, and a son, Edward, 22.

MAIL ORDER ROMANCE

Mrs. Pearl was found unconscious in her home, a wound in her throat, inflicted, police said, with a razor blade. She was found by her husband, William, who told police he and his wife had conducted a correspondence courtship through a matrimonial agency and that they had been married less than a month. Mrs. Pearl was treated at Allegheny General Hospital.

After being removed to the North Side Police Station, Mrs. Pearl is said to have removed the bandages and stitches from her neck and it was necessary to return her to the hospital. She was reported to be in a serious condition. She had been in ill health, her husband told police.

HOUSE BLAMES HAWAIIAN VICE ON GOVERNOR

Mitchell, With Reports of Navy, Ready to Speed Quiz Into Conditions on Island

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Attorney General Mitchell announced today he had completed plans for his investigation of lawlessness in Hawaii, as federal action looking to a drastic cleanup of vice conditions and a possible shakeup in the government there loomed.

Following a study of a large volume of documents sent to the Department of Justice by Secretary of the Navy Adams and Secretary of the Interior Wilbur, Mitchell is now in a position to start the inquiry. A special assistant will be named to go to the islands.

Without a dissenting vote the House Naval Affairs Committee today approved its sub-committee's report holding Gov. Lawrence Judd, of Hawaii, culpably negligent in the numerous attacks upon women in Honolulu.

LENIENCY BLAMED

Leniency shown by the Governor in one particular attack case, the committee believed, caused such cases to increase in number.

The report called upon Judd for a "full and complete report" of his action in pardoning a native athlete who had pleaded guilty to a charge of attack upon a young girl, and who had served but four months of an indeterminate prison sentence of four months to 15 years.

This athlete, K. Ahakeulo, who later represented the Territory of Hawaii at the national amateur boxing contests held at New York last year, was one of five accused by Mrs. Thomas H. Massie, wife of a young naval officer, of attacking her September 12.

HELD IN SLAYING

Joseph Kahahawai, one of the other four, was murdered January 3, and Mrs. Massie's husband, Lieut. Massie; her mother, Mrs. Granville Fortescue, and two Navy enlisted men are being held on first degree murder charges in connection with the killing.

The sub-committee had just completed a minute investigation of the confidential files and cablegrams of the Navy Department relating to the attack on Mrs. Massie and the killing of Kahahawai. In its report the sub-committee said it found a serious condition of affairs existing in Honolulu with regard to crimes against women.

SPEEDED FROM VENGEANCE OF PRISONERS

Killer Enraged Because Victim Showed Kindness To Another Pen 'Trusty'

Spirited from Rockview prison farm to Pittsburgh, Fred Collins, 37-year-old Negro convict, who murdered pretty Betty Hickok, 22, daughter of Dr. A. L. Hickok, prison psychiatrist at Rockview, today was locked behind the grim walls of Western Penitentiary charged with murder.

Collins, a "trusty" in the Hickok home, was brought to Pittsburgh by automobile a short time after a coroner's jury hastily summoned late yesterday returned a verdict that Miss Hickok was slain Convict Collins through "jealousy and revenge." They said that the murder was premeditated. Prison officials brought Collins here, fearing a possible lynching by fellow prisoners. He came in custody of Packey McFarland, deputy warden, and a guard at Rockview.

Trustees of the prison will meet tomorrow at Rockview to conduct an investigation, E. C. May, president announced today.

SEEKS DEATH CHAIR

The inquest was held in the death house at Rockview under the shadows of the electric chair.

As Collins related the story of how he had trapped and murdered the young woman with a butcher knife in the bathroom of her home, he paused and, turning toward the instrument of death, said:

"If that is the electric chair, that is what I want."

Collins told the jury that he had been "jealous" because Miss Hickok was "paying more attention to another Negro prisoner."

The latter, according to Coroner W. R. Heaton of Centre County, was Henry Maloney, also a "trusty," who was a cook in the Hickok home. The "attentions" were described by the Coroner as small acts of kindness Miss Hickok often did for the prisoners.

BALKS QUIZ ON WEAPON

Collins, throughout the inquest, refused to say where he had obtained the butcher knife, although he admitted he had possession of it "ever since he had conceived the crime," according to Coroner Heaton.

Heaton said Collins testified he had told his victim:

"I am going to finish a piece of work I have wanted to get rid of for some time. I am going to do the job right now."

Collins' case probably will be laid before the Center County grand jury February 8, although what type of indictment will be sought has not been decided. Collins is to be given a thorough mental examination. District Attorney John G. Love today intimated that avoidance of a first degree murder charge could be obtained only through proof that Collins is mentally incompetent.

Warden Stanley Ashe said if Collins is found mentally unbalanced he probably would be committed to the Farview State Hospital in Wayne County.

Summoned to Rockview from Harrisburg where he was on business, Dr. Hickok said Collins apparently "thought the world" of his family and that they never had experienced difficulties with him. He added:

"Collins was an excellent worker, quiet and polite."

ALLOWED FREEDOM

The Negro has been a psychopathic case under Dr. Hickok's care for years. Although known to be a moron, he had been considered harmless. He had free access to and from the home.

The slain girl was a graduate of Waymart High School, Wayne County, which she attended while her father was attached to the staff of the Farview Hospital. Dr. Hickok left Farview in 1927. It was reported that she was engaged to marry Wilson Tuthill, of Honesdale, at whose home Dr. Hickok visited early this week. Besides her parents, she leaves two brothers, Carlton, a teacher in Georgia, and another, a student in a district school at Bellefonte. The body will be taken to Susquehanna County for burial.

FILM ACTRESS TAKES POISON

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—(INS.)—Francine Dowd, 25, pretty motion picture actress, was found today suffering from the effects of poison, self-administered, according to police, in her lower Fifth avenue apartment.

"Nothing matters to me any more."

This was her statement to attendants of the building as she returned home today shortly before she was discovered moaning and nearly unconscious on the floor of her room.

At Bellevue Hospital, to which she was removed, it was said she was in a critical condition.

Rich U. S. Women Invite Hawaiian Romances, Says Dorothy Mackaill

(Editor's Note—Dorothy Mackaill, American film star, who has been a frequent visitor on the Hawaiian Islands, has written for International News Service her explanation of the turmoil in the "Paradise of the Pacific.")

By DOROTHY MACKAILL
International News Service.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Jan. 14.—(INS.)—It had to come! The "beach boys"—really full grown Kanakas—that is to say, pure-blooded Hawaiians—have had many romances with rich American women who have gone to the Islands as tourists and have been enthralled with its Eden-like fascination.

These affairs have been invited by this type of women. The "beach boys" have been spoiled by so many American women paying attention to them. By contrast, they are extremely deferential when made to realize their inferiority.

The killing of Kahahawai is deplorable. It is a tribute to the real Hawaiian people that none of the men accused of attacking Mrs. Massie was a Kanaka. The five men were mixed breed.

And let me say right now that the mixed element now on the island of Oahu is living dynamite. It is a racial mixture of Japanese, Portuguese, Chinese and Polynesian. What can we expect of these people when they see Kanakas openly receiving the attentions of American women?

Some American women behave in a manner little short of disgraceful on the beach at Waikiki, wearing abbreviated bathing suits and permitting the "beach boys" to apply cocoanut oil so they may get a good tan.

It's really a shame that all this trouble has happened, for the islands are so beautiful and the true Hawaiians and those who have intermarried with white people are such a happy lot.

The address turned out to be a stable.

A committeeman asked:

"Does Mrs. Zilch live here?"

Her groom replied:

"Yes, but she's a mare—in fact an old gray mare."

It was then the committee learned that someone had been jesting with the Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the contest.

Woman's Trial Delayed Until Mate Arrives

HONOLULU, T. H., Jan. 14.—(INS.)—Trial on murder charges of the socially prominent Mrs. Granville Fortescue and her son-in-law, Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, will be delayed until the arrival from New York of Mrs. Fortescue's brother, Robert Bell, and her husband, County Attorney James Gilliland announced today.

Mrs. Fortescue's husband, Mal Fortescue, is now seriously ill in New York, and should he be unable to come to the islands for a considerable time, the civil courts may be forced to go ahead with the case, Gilliland said.

However, the four Americans charged with the revenge slaying of a native and now held in the custody of the Navy will be turned over to the civil authorities of Honolulu whenever they request it, Admiral Yates Sterling, ranking naval officer here, said.

Bridge Experts to Test Systems in Tilt Here

The "acid" test for competing systems of contract bridge will come next week when the Sun-Telegraph and the Pittsburgh Bridge Club stage a 100-hand tournament in four nights in the bridge club rooms next week.

Eight prominent Pittsburgh bridge experts will compete—four disciples of Eli Culbertson and his approach-forcing system, four exponents of the "official" system whose chief exponent, Sydney Lenz, recently lost an epic tournament to Culbertson and his partner.

Mrs. Henry J. Bailey, president of the club, announced the contest today. She explained that the competing teams will play at two tables in separate rooms. Opposing pairs will be followers of opposing systems. The tables will play identical hands, but, at one table, Culbertson fans will play one set of cards, while at the other table and at the same time, followers of the "official" method will play the same set of cards.

The contestants will play 25 hands on each of Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings next week. While they play a blackboard chart of the hands will be shown with experts explaining the technically correct plays. This will be open to the public, will be compared with the actual plays at the tables. No "kibitzers" will be allowed.

Full details of the matches will be published in the Sun-Telegraph.

NOTE ON BRIDGE SUICIDE CLUE

An unidentified man, thought to have been C. R. Mitchell, former Pittsburgh newspaper reporter, was believed to have taken his life by jumping into the Monongahela River early today from the Smithfield Street Bridge after an overcoat and note were found on the bridge. The river patrol was dragging the river for the body.

The note read:

"Robert Grant Mitchell, Washington road, Finleyville.

"Buddy, I guess you would be better off if the old man kicked off. The call downtown did not mean anything and I cannot make the gas bill. You kids will be better off without me. Mother and dad will take a couple of you, and Chris and Bob will help out some. Good-bye, Nap, nobody loves you but dad . . . and Frank and Vera . . . my boys . . . take care of Mary Lou . . . I've gone to see your mother . . . daddy."

Partly written with a typewriter and partly scribbled with a pen, the note was written on newsprint paper. Friends of the former reporter said that the names in the note were those of his five children. He had been employed on local weekly publications and yesterday visited one of the papers for which he formerly worked. Since he had been promised aid there, his action was unexplainable.

Apparently the boy had stepped on a rotted board which covered the 1-foot opening and had toppled in head-first.

BAAR SLAYING CAPTURE SEEN

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 14 — (AP)—N. Vernon Hawthorne, state's attorney here, announced that investigators had turned over to him the black and yellow costume worn by a bandit who shot and killed Sigmund I. Baar on Halloween night. Hawthorne said he believed a solution of the slaying was imminent.

The State's Attorney declined to say where his investigators located the costume. He said the clue came from one of several persons held for questioning about several recent robberies and shootings.

Baar, a wealthy soap manufacturer, was shot and killed by a masked and costumed bandit, who attempted to hold up him and wife. Mrs. Baar is the former Miss Frank, daughter of a Pittsburgh department store owner.

SEES DANGER TO SHIP PLANTS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 — (AP)—Disorganization of private shipbuilding yards was forecast today before the House Naval Committee unless Congress approves a construction program.

Rear Admiral George Rock, chief of the Navy's Bureau of Construction and Repair, testified there was not enough work available to keep private yards busy after the end of this year.

Unless congressional approval is given to some bill like the $616,250,000 Vinson measure pending before the committee, Rock said private yards will lose many technicians and specialists who will be compelled to go into other work to make a living.

Private yards, he added, are necessary for national defense in providing new ships in an emergency.

Labor Asks Ruling On U. S. Jobs Pay

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 — (AP)—Clarification and extension of laws requiring government contractors to pay wages prevailing in the locality where the work is being done, was asked today before the House Labor Committee.

William Green, American Federation of Labor president, proposed the law be amended to include flood control and rivers and harbors projects as well as public buildings. He said also many contractors escaped the law by making rebates.

MINISTER AGAIN TRIED IN KILLING

LAMAR, Mo., Jan. 14 — (AP)—Divergent state testimony concerning a purported dying statement of the Rev. George Rider, evangelist, was before a jury today in the second trial of the Rev. J. A. Brown for the slaying.

The rev[illegible] was shot in a fight April 4 a[illegible] he had [illegible]proached Brown [illegible]nd asked [illegible] to conduct F[illegible]r Sunday services at Halley's Bluff community church.

Mr. Rider previously had succeeded the defendant as pastor of the congregation.

The prosecution introduced the statement, which related that Rider had been shot by Brown as he was leaving the latter's home. C. T. McCumber, deputy sheriff, said it was dictated to him by the dying evangelist. He said the evangelist had not signed the document, in the belief that his signature was unnecessary. Deputy McCumber's wife, under cross examination, brought out that the minister did not sign because his condition prevented him from writing.

The defendant contends he shot in self defense.

Driver Crashes Auto to Foil Holdupman

CHICAGO, Jan. 14 — (AP)—Frank Zohrobski is a thrifty soul.

Yesterday he had a chance to demonstrate his thriftiness while he was driving a truck down the street, with $70 in his pockets.

A holdup man jumped on his machine. Frank thought of his $70. He wanted to attract someone's attention so he deliberately drove his truck into the side of a street car.

The holdup fled. Damage to the truck was $10. The street car was undamaged. Frank's savings, $60.

LAVAL FORMS NEW CABINET

PARIS, Jan. 14 — (INS.)—Pierre Laval stood more firmly intrenched in the French political scene than ever today as a result of forming a new cabinet within 24 hours after his resignation during the government crisis.

The new cabinet was composed of the same ministers as the resigned body with one notable exception—the retirement of Aristide Briand, veteran of veterans in the politics of France. At the age of 69 he was finally out of the political picture, perhaps permanently.

André Tardieu, former premier and minister of agriculture in the late cabinet, was named war minister, in which capacity he will plead the cause of France at the Geneva disarmament conference.

College Girl Saved From Strangler

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Jan. 14 — (AP)—Mary Beamon, 18, Drury College freshman, was attacked and severely beaten on the college campus by an unidentified young man who escaped in the darkness. Miss Beamon, whose home is in Holly, Col., was being strangled when her moans attracted a passerby and her attacker fled.

College authorities said the attack was the most serious of several frightening episodes on the campus recently. All are credited to the same prowler.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.

HOOVER CREDIT BILL SCORED BY M'FADDEN

Terms Measure Scheme to Make People Pay for 'Financial Looters' Losses'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP.) — As unrelenting as ever, Representative McFadden, Pennsylvania's outspoken Republican, delivered a bold attack on the administration's $2,000,000,000 reconstruction bill yesterday.

This time McFadden, who previously accused President Hoover of having sold out to Germany in proposing the moratorium, did not mention the President by name. By inference he referred to the administration's effort to hasten passage of the measure as attempting to "dragoon" Congress into the last fatal plunge to bolster America and then let the side down, the stock market, Wall Street.

He called the measure a product of "un-American methods," rapping his table for emphasis.

SCORES BANKERS

The bill itself he described as "this financial monstrosity," through which he said it was attempted to offer a sanctuary to the predatory interests, as he termed international bankers.

McFadden made the charges during an hour's speech on the floor of the House which he granted himself. As ranking minority member of the Banking Committee which considered the bill, the Pennsylvanian was in charge of the limits of time for debate.

Reminiscent of his original blast against the administration, McFadden was interrupted frequently by both Republicans and Democrats, some to criticize and others to uphold what he was saying. There was a scattering of applause, mostly from the Democratic side, when he finished.

A reference in the prepared text of his speech to the bill as unfit for your consideration, was deleted by McFadden in his deliverance.

ACCUSED AS LOOTERS

He said the Reconstruction Finance Corporation plan represented "a scheme for taking a half billion dollars of the people's money, produced by labor at the cost of toil and suffering and giving it to a super-corporation for the sinister purpose of helping a gang of financial looters to cover up their tracks," adding:

"It is a scheme for giving those financial looters a chance to dispose of evidence which, if brought into the light of day, would cause the doors of our federal penitentiaries to close upon them for a long term of years.

"The looters, after wrecking the business fabric of the country, now come forward with a scheme for taking over the remaining property values of the entire United States; they propose to conduct a bankrupt sale of American equities. They propose to put the United States in pawn for 10 years to pay their losses on worthless foreign paper.

"Instead of paying their own losses as other citizens have to do, these financial magnates ask us to pass a law for their especial benefit. They already have in the last several years filched from the United States Treasury enough money to pay the entire national debt, but that does not prevent them from staging another raid on it. With this last grand operation they propose to avail themselves of a super-corporation with a detective service de luxe and by means of this super-corporation, controlling all other corporations and spying on every individual in the country, they propose to spread their losses over the entire population of the United States.

TERMED DISHONEST

"Their scheme is to make the people of the United States furnish a purchase price for their frozen assets; to have the government put its signature on those assets; to tie them up in a different package, and then to sell them again to the general public.

"The scheme is dangerous, unsound and dishonest.

"A bank loss is a bank responsibility. The collective losses of United States banks should be borne by the banks and not by the general public. There is no reason why we should permit them to reimburse themselves at the expense of the general American public.

"The present scheme does not select any one class to pay for the orgies of the credit rationers, but it proposes instead to collect tribute from every member of the population. The first tribute is the $500,000,000 which is to be taken out of the people's treasury.

"This invention, widely advertised as a cure-all, is not worth half a billion dollars of the taxpayers' money. We have no right to take that money out of the treasury, and to spend it on doubtful expedients. We have no right to take that money and to use it for what you must all agree is nothing more than a cheap promoter's scheme for creating a temporary illusion of prosperity."

PRISON BRIBES CHARGED

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 14. (AP.) — Investigators of alleged offers to prisoners at Ohio Penitentiary returned today to charge that bribes had been offered to obtain the release of several convicts.

Leona Marie Eich of the Cleveland Association for Criminal Justice told the senate investigating committee she had refused to accept a large sum of money to help get one of the freedom of one prisoner who later was pardoned. She mentioned several cases which she said appeared suspicious, and refused to furnish the name of the man who tried to buy her assistance.

SHOUSE LAUDS LEADERSHIP OF GARNER

Speaker Making Profound Impression in Capital, Democratic Leader Says

By JOHN W. DIENHART
United News Staff

CHICAGO, Jan. 14. — Speaker John N. Garner of the House, boomed for the Democratic nomination for President, is making a profound impression in Washington, Jouett Shouse, executive chairman of the Democratic National Committee, said here today.

While not endorsing Garner because of his position, Shouse declined to discuss candidates, he said of the rival:

"No speaker of the House of Representatives in modern times has shown greater capacity for leadership or sane comprehension of the needs and requirements of the country in times of stress than Garner has shown.

"He is a man of great ability who would fill with credit any office within the gift of the people."

PROSPECTS BRIGHT

In Chicago to inaugurate arrangements for the party's national convention here June 27 and also to address the Democratic Editors' Banquet tonight, Shouse said not since 1912 have prospects for election of a Democrat as President been so bright. He added:

"President Hoover is the weakest man the Republican convention could nominate. It is surprising and appalling he has no defenders in his party. The utter lack of leadership exhibited by the President will cause his renomination to be given sullenly, unwillingly and with absolute prescience of defeat."

The main issues in the forthcoming presidential campaign will be the tariff, unemployment, governmental interference in business and prohibition, Shouse said.

RAPS TWO-THIRDS RULE

As to prohibition he reported there is a wide divergence of opinion within the Democratic party on methods for solving the problem but that he expects adoption of a plank favoring a national referendum.

Shouse, like many other national leaders, favors abolition of the two-thirds rule in the Democratic convention but he said he doubted the 1932 convention would adopt the Republicans rule of nominating by a majority vote. He commented:

"In the event the rule is not changed this year, the convention should adopt a resolution urging the 1936 convention to rescind the two-thirds requirement."

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Whooping Cough Likely to Cause Serious Results

There is one disease that mothers too frequently diagnose for themselves. This is whooping cough. Often, too, the mother treats her child without medical advice. Both these things are wrong, because the disease may prove to be far more serious than was expected.

Dr. Copeland

The early signs of this disease are similar to those of a cold in the head. These first symptoms are followed by a persistent cough. There may be such spasms of coughing as to cause vomiting. The "whoop" does not develop until a week or more after the onset of the disease.

Children with whooping cough should not be permitted to play with other children. They should not go to school, church or the movies where other children are present. Whooping cough is contagious. It is spread by direct contact with the discharge from the mouth or nose.

Eighty per cent of the cases occur in the early years of life. The disease sometimes affects adults, but is not commonly seen in grown-ups. Children of all ages are susceptible to whooping cough. In children under 5 years of age the disease is serious. The spasms of coughing are exhausting, and weaken the child so that he becomes more susceptible to other ailments.

The trouble may last from two to six weeks. Children should not return to school until they have been examined and pronounced free from the disease. It is contagious until about a week after the "whoop" has disappeared.

It is not necessary for the child to remain in bed, unless he has fever. Fresh air and sunlight I regard as important agents in combatting this disease and most other ailments. But if you take your child to the park, do not permit him to play with other children.

I stress these warnings, because many others regard whooping cough as a disease that every child must have. Since this is not the case, every effort should be made to guard against the disease.

Though most cases are mild, sometimes they result in serious complications. Young infants, delicate children and those having a predisposition to tuberculosis, should be carefully protected against exposure to whooping cough.

Recently there has been developed a vaccine for the prevention of this disease. It is regarded as having considerable value, particularly in very young infants that have been exposed to whooping cough.

To End a Cough In a Hurry, Mix This at Home

To quickly end stubborn coughs due to colds, it is important to soothe the inflamed membranes, get rid of the germs and also to aid the system inwardly to help throw off the trouble.

For these purposes, here is a home-made medicine, far better than anything you could buy at 3 times the cost. From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to fill up the pint. This takes but a moment, saves money, and makes a remedy so effective that you will never do without, once you have used it. Keeps perfectly, and children like it.

This simple remedy does three necessary things. First, it loosens the germ-laden phlegm. Second, it soothes away the inflammation. Third, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. This explains why it brings such quick relief, even in the obstinate coughs which follow cold epidemics.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest medicinal agents for severe coughs and bronchial irritations.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

RHEUMATISM PAINS

Can Be Stopped ONLY One Way

It's the Musclotone way. This soothing liquid penetrates the surface tissues underneath the muscular tissues—relieves blood congestion. And still more, takes the stiffness out of joints, penetrates tired muscles, puts new strength into weak tissues. In 7 to 10 minutes you'll notice a big change. No more pain—no more crushing misery—life is worth living now.

Dr. Chapin, the muscular pain specialist perfected Musclotone. No more "liniment or rub-down" can ever hope to equal its healing and warming action. Won't irritate or blister. Eliminates the objectionable method of taking nauseating internal drugs.

If you really want relief, insist on Musclotone. Don't accept any substitutes. Musclotone is guaranteed to do the work even in the most severe cases. If it doesn't, return the bottle. Every cent you paid will be refunded.

Mr. F. M. of Phila., Pa. says—"I received such wonderful results from a sample treatment of MUSCLETONE that it encouraged me to purchase a large size bottle at our drug store. I have been suffering from rheumatism in my arm. The results I received from your MUSCLETONE were greatly beneficial. I have also used it on a case of eczema with gratifying results. Your remedy is remarkable and I can truthfully say, after using various preparations for many years, your MUSCLETONE is the best ever."

TELL IT TO SALLY -:- -:- Follow This Unusual Feature Day by Day -:- -:- By SALLY MARTIN

Should a Working Wife Save Her Salary for Future?

Should Darby and Joan share expenses if Joan works? Should they take advantage of her pay check, and live in a better, sunnier apartment, and wear classier clothes?

Or should Darby insist they live within his salary, even though they must live meanly to do so?

That was what Magda asked. She was tired of living in cramped, dark rooms and dressing like a tramp, while their bank account grew, just because her big boy wouldn't let her spend her own money.

Did you think he was right, and Magda wrong? Nan does.

"Dear Sally:

"I've just read Magda's letter about her husband not allowing her to spend her money, although he is willing enough for her to work if she wants to, and I would like to tell you my story. I think he is right.

"Seven years ago, before Tom and I were married, we decided that I should keep on working. It was just about a week before the wedding that, one day, my very wise mother, who seldom tries to tell her children what to do, said:

"'I don't mind your working after you're married, dear. In fact, I am glad that you will be able to. But please don't spend the money you earn. Live on Tom's salary. It is small, I know, but it is so easy to get used to living on two salaries, and then so hard to come back to living on one if the woman stops working. Babies will come, you know, and even if they don't, you'll need money saved.'

FOLLOWED HER ADVICE

"I had never thought of it that way, but that evening, when Tom came, we talked it over. We decided that she was right, and that we would save practically all that I made. We decided to use a small portion of my salary for my carfare and lunches, and a little extra for my clothes, since a girl wears out more clothes when she's working than when she stays at home, but to save all the rest.

"Well, I worked for a little over a year, and we went 50-50 on the housework, but not on expenses, although our savings account was in both of our names. And how that account grew! . . .

"Then I decided to stop working, and I began to notice I could cook much better dinners than I had while working, and for less money. Our home took on a warmer, friendlier air, too. Pretty things, when you have time to make them, are so easy to have! And my clothes seemed to last for ages, too.

"I began to study, and when I found topics I knew would interest Tom, I put them on his plate at dinner time. Then he, no longer having to dig into housework, began to study, too. He got more sure of himself. He made speeches at company affairs. He was promoted. We began playing golf with Mr. and Mrs. Boss. He was promoted again, and we entertained Mr. and Mrs. Boss and several Mr. and Mrs. Prospects in our own home. He was promoted a third time.

A HAPPY FAMILY

"Now, after seven years, we have faith and love for each other, a darling 2-year-old baby girl, a good car and a little roadster for me, a little maid to help me with my housework, a membership in the country club, and that fine feeling a woman has when she sees her husband going ahead in business. Besides that, the savings account is still growing.

"As for our little Pat—well, if she's like her mother she will do as she pleases. But I hope she marries a man like her daddy. God bless him!

"Or like Magda's husband, Jack. He has the right idea. Savings means safety. Why live up both salaries? Living on one means pinching for a while, but what of that, when you're getting a firm foundation?

"NAN."

That's a good idea, Nan. And that was a fine letter you wrote. Here's my hand to you. You're regular!

And how about you, stranger? Do you agree with Nan, or with Magda, who wanted to do her living as she went along?

Raising a Family Is the Greatest Privilege Life Offers, Says Fay King

IT TAKES YEARS OF CONSTANT CARE TO RAISE A CHILD, BUT LOVE MAKES DUTY A PLEASURE
THE BEST CREDENTIAL A MAN CAN HAVE IN ANY COMMUNITY IS THE RESPONSIBILITY OF A FAMILY TO WHOM HE IS DEVOTED
HOW SHALLOW SEEMS THE SELFISH SHOW OF THOSE WHO PREFER TO BE CHILDLESS
FAY KING

By FAY KING

Raising a family is an endless care and cost, and calls for sacrifice and unselfishness, but it is a duty which love makes lighter and is the grandest privilege life offers.

The man who is devoted to his growing family, and appreciates the responsibility and realizes the need his care is to them is a man who receives the respect of every community where he is found.

How shallow seems the selfish show and selfish pleasures of those who prefer to be childless.

I do not confuse those who love children but have none or those who have not married for some good reason or other. They are devoted to the children of others.

Heart of a Wife -:- Continuation of Love's Reawakening

By ADELE GARRISON

Katie's Alarm Brings Madge to Baby's Bedside

I was at the door of my room and had jerked it open before Katie's voice frantically calling Lillian and me had fairly died away. Lillian was close behind me, and we both were asking insistently "What is it?" but we found we were addressing the query to Katie's retreating back as she scurried toward the nursery.

"Ba-bee!"

She flung the word over her shoulder at us as she went through the door, and Lillian caught my shoulder as I swayed toward her.

"Steady, Girl; you know how excitable Katie is."

"I-am-all-right," I panted as we dashed after Katie, for I have a horror of the type of woman who "goes to pieces" when there is an emergency. I can remember my little mother saying: "Time enough for tears and swoons when the danger is over, and there's nothing more to be done," and schooled in those precepts, I always have been able to keep going in times of stress.

But it took every atom of my will power to keep from screaming as I went through Katherine's sitting room to the nursery beyond, and saw her bending over a rigid little body on the bed.

My baby daughter, Faith? Was she—?

Katherine spoke without turning her head.

"She's coming out of it, now, Madge, help me here, and Lillian, send for Dr. Quigley. He's nearer than the others. Tell him to come at once."

She moved a bit to one side as I bent over the bed, restraining by a mighty effort the impulse to snatch up my baby and hold her tightly in my arms. As I looked down at her, the last vestige of rigidity left her and she opened her eyes.

"She's all right now, for the time," Katherine said reassuringly. "But stand here, and don't take your eyes from her. I'm only going into the next room, so if her eyelids and fingers begin to quiver spasmodically, call me instantly. Katie, empty that bathtub and get it ready to fill again. And bring in another covered can of hot water. I hope we won't need it, but I want to be ready if we do."

"Convulsion?" I uttered the word so dreaded by every mother with lips so dry that I could hardly frame the syllables.

"Yes, but not a hard one," Katherine answered as she hurried away, and I did not know myself in the fury against my little kinswoman which swept and ravaged me as I anxiously watched the face and hands of my tiny daughter for the dread symptoms Katherine had named.

It was a fury against myself as well, but for the moment I could neither analyze nor voice it. All my faculties fixed upon the tiny face upon the bed.

Katie, trying to keep under control the sobs into which she breaks at every hint of danger to the children, worked swiftly to obey Katherine's directions, and then clutched at my arm.

"Oh, Misses Graham!" she whispered—though she could have been heard in the next room. "Is dot darling ba-bee going die on us?"

"Katie!" Lillian's voice sounded crisply from the doorway. "If you say any other word except 'yes' and 'no' until this thing is over, I'll lock you up myself in a dark closet for the rest of the night. And I'll tell you now that the baby is not going to die."

Did she believe that statement herself? I asked myself drearily, as Katie gave a little gasp of relief.

"Go out into the hall, Katie," Lillian went on in kindly but firm fashion, "and sit down close to the door where Mrs. Bickett can get you at a second's notice. I'll take your place here."

Katie knew better than to disobey, but her very back was sulky as she went slowly out of the door and closed it after her.

"Cassandra was an optimist compared to our Katie," Lillian commented in a low voice, but for once her cheeriness jarred, even though I knew that she was carefully preserving a casual air in order to relieve the terror which she knew was engulfing me.

"Is — the-doctor-coming?" I whispered.

"At once. He sounded as if he were reaching for his shoes with one hand as he held the receiver to his ear with the other. He ought to be here any minute."

I had not taken my eyes from the face of my baby daughter, and I fancied I saw her eyelids quiver. I grasped Lillian's arm.

"Look!" I whispered. "Are her eyelids moving? Katherine said to call her if they were."

"She's opening them; that's all." Lillian said practically as Faith opened her eyes wide, and screwed her face into the familiar lines preceding a wail. Never have I heard anything so welcome as that perfectly natural cry, and never have I felt more unreasoning savage resentment than I experienced at the sight of Katherine hurrying into the room at the sound of that tiny wail. But as yet I could not clearly analyze the cause of my unjust reaction to her.

Boiled Rice.

Rice boiled in milk is a very delightful change from plain boiled rice and is also nutritious. Use a quart of milk to approximately a cup of rice and cook in a double boiler for two hours or until the rice is entirely soft. While it is cooking, sugar may be added to taste and if one is fond of cinnamon, this, too, adds a delectable flavor.

Contract Bridge -:- OFFICIAL SYSTEM As Adopted by Leading Authorities

By E. V. SHEPARD

The Only Chance

The following hand well illustrates two important principles of sound bid and play.

Z passed. Under Official System bidding A had to open with a bid of 2-Spades. A's hand was not strong enough for a demand bid; B would not have assisted an opening bid of 1-Spade, and he held barely enough to raise even the semi-demand bid. Both Y and Z held no sound declarations, and A ended contracting with 4-Spades, which was not easy to make, as the declarer soon discovered.

Y's opening lead was the king of diamonds, which A won, and then began pulling opposing trumps, dropping all except one with two leads of his own high trumps. If he won an immediate third trump trick he must do so with dummy's only card of entry. Probably A must lose three heart tricks if he led that suit, with the A-K-10-9 all against him; he also must lose one diamond trick. Four lost tricks would defeat his game contract. Fortunately he remembered a rule that I had taught him: "When only one chance exists to win, assume that opposing cards lie as you wish; then play as if you saw them so placed." He wanted Y to follow suit while three top clubs were led. A led out his three clubs and Y followed suit.

Then dummy was put in the lead with its ace of trumps, and A discarded one losing diamond and one losing heart on dummy's two good clubs. A ended by making five-odd, giving only the last two tricks to Y-Z.

Recently I took my own prescription on the hand shown below. I shutout a game at spades with my opening bid of 4-Hearts. Y's holdings gave me only one chance for game.

I ruffed the second lead of clubs. Evidently game could not be won unless leading my A of hearts caught the lone K. I tried it and won. Next I put Y in with his top trump, dropping the J. A finesse of diamonds was successful. I entered dummy with the 7 of hearts; again led a diamond. Then I laid down my A, catching the K, and leaving good my last diamond. Following my own rule gave me one trick more than my contract.

Correct Manners

By Mrs. Cornelius Beeckman

Note of Thanks

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

1. When sending a thank-you note for a wedding present received from a man and his wife, how should the envelope be addressed, and would the salutation be just Mrs., including in the note Mr., or should it be "Dear Mr. and Mrs.?"

2. Also, is it correct for a bride to head notes to the groom's aunt and uncle as "Dear Mr. and Mrs.?"

1. Write the note "Mrs." and address the note to "Mrs." and in the note itself include "Mr." in the expression of appreciation. Like this:

Dear Mrs. Thompson:

You and Mr. Thompson were so very kind and thoughtful to plan to make John and me so happy by sending us such a beautiful lamp for our new home.

2. If she addresses them as Mrs. and Mr. then she should use this form in her letter to them. That is, her letter should begin like the one I have suggested in the first answer.

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

MARY ANNE.

"The lady on the right of the gentleman" is the rule to remember here.

Patricia Pitt's Sprightly Comment on Pittsburgh Society Happenings

With the passing of every springlike January day, the month becomes more and more glamorous, all because of these notable weddings starring the post-holiday season.

Marking the final days of the month will be the wedding of Eleanor Hurtte Rowe daughter of the Wallace Hurte Rowes of Morewood avenue, who'll wed Nelson Vance Harper, son of the Samuel Williams Harpers, on Saturday, January 30.

The ceremony, to be a simple one, attended by members of the two families and a few friends, will take place in the Rowe home that afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. Officiating will be the Rev. Dr. Hugh Thomson Kerr, of Shadyside Presbyterian Church.

Eleanor will have two matrons of honor, her only attendants. They will be her sister-in-law, Mrs. Wallace Hurtte Rowe, Jr., and Mrs. David A. Cooper, of Philadelphia, the former Virginia Furey.

Wilson S. Bailey, of Pittsburgh, will be Mr. Harper's best man, and there'll be no ushers, I understand.

The bridesmaids will be Dora Donner, another sister of the bride; Marion Winsor, Martha Hare, Elizabeth Hood, Frances B. Shober, all of Philadelphia, and Elizabeth Marston, of New York. Anna Eleanor Dall, daughter of the Curtis B. Dalls, and Doris B. Stewart, daughter of the John Stewarts, of Radnor, Pa., will be flower girls.

NECKLINE COMMANDS INTEREST IN THE EARLY SPRING MODE

Sketched in Paris

Paris Bureau, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

PARIS, Jan. 14.—Collars on many of the dresses for early spring wear are all puffed up about their charm and importance in the sartorial scheme. More and more does the neckline command interest and so unique and original collars are here in full force, the collar very often being the style center of the frock. All sorts of cowl necklines, with various modifications, will be used, while Vionnet's new rolled and puffed collar is certain to be quickly copied and imitated. For not only is it most attractive sartorially, but it gives a soft and most youthful air to the wearer. So much can be done with the neckline and the frock that boasts a neckline that the wearer can manipulate and arrange to suit individually will always score. And so that means that scarf-necklines will be back in the spring line-up. For early spring wear in town, too, the restaurant frock will be in force. Worn with a little matching jacket and a smart little hat, it is ideal for dining at a restaurant. And when the hat and jacket are laid aside, one is perfectly dressed to go on to a place where more formal wear is the order of the day or night. For the dress beneath the jacket is always very decollete.

* * *

SKETCHED IS ONE of Vionnet's newest afternoon frocks featuring her new collar. It is in very pale crepe de chine. The rolled and puffed collar and lower sleeves are trimmed with wide diagonal bands of fagotting. Typical of the house are the bias cut raglan shoulders, the slightly bloused bodice and the diagonal closing at one side of the skirt, the latter in this instance marked by a row of silver buttons.

* * *

SHOWN IS THE TYPE of frock demanded by the clients of Molyneux for town wear during the season. The model shown is of bluish-mauve georgette. Over the decollete bodice is worn a short sleeved jacket of the same fabric, both jacket and tiered skirt being softened by alternating godets and fan-pleats, placed in clever alteration.

'Unknown' to Play Mary Pickford Lead

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Some young actor, now unknown to motion picture fans, will be the leading man for Mary Pickford in the picture on which she plans starting work in the near future.

Miss Pickford said she wanted to give one of the thousands of Hollywood's unrecognized actors an opportunity to better himself. The man she selects, she said, must be well founded in the art of acting and have "a screen personality."

Film Company Sued Following Gann Fete

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Alleging a flagrant breach of contract, a suit for $49,311 was filed in Superior Court yesterday against the Fox Film Corporation by Joseph Johnson, former Commissioner of Public Works in New York City.

Johnson said the suit was an outgrowth of an impasse which began with a disagreement over an entertainment given here recently for Mrs. Edward E. (Dolly) Gann, sister of Vice President Curtis.

WE NOW PRESENT

By Darrell V. Martin
Radio Editor

THE PROPOSAL OF John Brownlee Springs owner of WNBO at Washington, Pa., to erect a 5,000-watt transmitter in Pittsburgh on the 800-kilocycle band reached first base today when the Federal Radio Commission set Thursday, January 21 as the tentative date for a hearing.

However scoring from first base on the radio commission is quite a feat, even now the path is blocked with complaints from WBAP in Fort Worth and WFAA in Dallas who operate 10,000 and 25,000-watt transmitters on the choice wave requested by Mr. Springs. These complaints and the fact that the commission formed but 11 new stations all last year are headwinds that Mr. Springs and his backers must subdue before hoping to invade Pittsburgh with a sixth radio station. We understand that the five stations already operating in Pittsburgh have filed no complaint. This is a point in Mr. Springs' favor.

MUSCULAR-RHEUMATIC PAINS

DRAW them out with a "counter-irritant." Muscular lumbago, soreness and stiffness—generally respond to good old Musterole. Doctors call it a "counter-irritant" because its warming action penetrates and stimulates blood circulation and helps to draw out infection and pain. It gets action and is not just a salve. But do not stop with one application. Apply this soothing, cooling, healing ointment generously to the affected area once every hour for five hours. Used by millions for over 20 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses. All druggists.

To Mothers—Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

All Washington druggists, New York, Chicago and other leading druggists recommend and guarantee this mixture.

Here's Quick Way To Break Up a Cold

Makes you feel like a new person almost before you know it

Take two tablets now.

Better almost before you know it.

THE thing to do with a cold is to break it up in a hurry—with something you know does the job, not to trifle with a lot of trick ideas and remedies. Colds are too dangerous to experiment with.

Get a box of Hill's Cascara Quinine at any drug store. Take two tablets now. Then follow directions on box. Drink lots of water, too—that's all.

Soon that miserable aching feeling begins to go. The cold breaks up. The poisons are moved from your system. The world looks like an altogether different place.

Those results come because Hill's goes back to first principles by going to the seat of the trouble. It's not a best-tangled fancy idea but a tried and proved way that's made to do ONE THING WELL, to knock a cold in a jiffy.

Hill's costs only a few cents . . . try it for quick relief after else you've tried has

GHILLIES —Come to Town

The smartest young women are wearing them with their street clothes . . . for this new fashion of unlined, soft-toe shoes is so important as to amount to almost a shoe revolution.

Class Distinction in County Drivers' Pay?

—By MARK SHIELDS—

Mark Shields

In the schedule of salaries set up by the County Commissioners the chauffeur for the chairman of the board is to get $170 monthly, while chauffeurs for the other two members receive only $160. That savors of class distinction, or something.

The chairman, of course, is Col. McGovern. Time was when his chauffeur should have been the highest paid, but then he was a minority member, and the automobile set aside for his use by Messrs. Babcock and Armstrong was so decrepit that it was worth $10 extra of anyone's money to drive it—and hold it together.

However, McGovern became so attached to the old model that he protested giving it up when Babcock and the late Commissioner Armstrong grew expansive and insisted he have a new machine.

In this new board it would seem that the driver for Commissioner Mansfield is the one who should have the most pay. There has been no rough-riding of Mansfield by McGovern and his colleague, C. M. Barr; but if the appointments to jobs so far are a criterion, Barr and McGovern will attend to necessary business, and Mansfield can spend his time riding about the county.

There is no injustice in the position of the majority commissioners. Mansfield in a political campaign attempted to attain supreme power and was defeated.

And in fairness to the majority Commissioners it should be observed that they have so far exhibited no intent to construct a political machine. The men they have named have been active independents, but have no great political strength. Appointees seem to be chosen with a view to carrying out the principles on which Barr and McGovern were elected.

* * *

Mansfield Gains Nothing In Three 'Cabinet' Posts

In the three so-called "cabinet" posts awarded in the reorganized county government Mansfield has gained nothing, though John W. Vickerman, chief of the Bureau of Elections, is not unfriendly. But Vickerman was first of all a Barr selection, though it is not without irony that Vickerman also has enjoyed pleasant relations with Senator James J. Coyne, with whom Barr is at bitter odds.

Frank J. Chester, Director of Highways, a department which replaces the old department of public works, is another Barr appointment.

Ray Sprigle, Director of Property and Supplies, owes his elevation to McGovern, who originally intended him to be Sheriff, but was sidetracked in this ambition by Gov. Pinchot, urged on by Coyne. James O. Corbett, registrar in the Bureau of Deed Registry, is a McGovern man, as is William T. Rees, the new chief clerk. Both Rees and Corbett were defeated in the September primary when they sought nominations for county office.

Mansfield's first victory is in the probable appointment of George Meyers, of Dormont, as chairman of the Board for the Revision and Assessment of Taxes, unless you wish to include S. J. Topley and E. R. Crawford, named to the County Planning Commission. The latter body, however, has no political influence, and its decisions are subject to veto by the County Board.

Old Tax Board Is Swept Out

The old tax board is completely swept out. Independents always claimed this board was an important cog in the recently defeated organization when that machine was winning elections in spite of public sentiment.

Of the other probable new members, H. C. Workmaster, Harry A. Quay and J. Ralph Barr, the latter brother to the Commissioner, are regarded as Barr selections. John Francies, former County Treasurer, is urged for appointment by McGovern. Workmaster managed the Barr campaign.

Myers was a member of the Redistricting Board named by Judge Evans when the adoption of voting machines led to a reduction in the number of polling places in the county.

The prominence given Quay, long an active Independent in the North Boroughs, is reported linked with the Vickerman appointment. Selection of Vickerman met with by no means universal approval among Independents. Some of the unterrified remembered that he was reluctant in the Pinchot senatorial fight in 1926, though he was early in the last statewide Pinchot fight.

The Independent meeting in Avalon last Friday night was quietly billed as a protest against Vickerman, and newspapermen were warned to be on the lookout for fireworks. But the gathering in reality was a love feast, with Park H. Martin, who has opposed Vickerman in legislative battles, opening the meeting with the statement that remarks would be confined to ways and means of perfecting a permanent organization for future Independent action.

Quay has been lined up with Martin, and if he is named to the tax board oil will have been poured on the troubled waters.

ATTACKED GIRL REGAINS SENSES

Charleroi Victim Still Too Ill for Questioning, but Recovery Is Hoped For

CHARLEROI, Pa., Jan. 14.—Regaining consciousness after being in a coma for 77 hours, Miss Dorothy May Henrion, 17, Charleroi High School student, attacked Monday night, is believed on the road to recovery. Dr. A. Cummings, attending physician, would not permit the girl to be questioned.

Heart stimulants and artificial respiration were used to restore the girl to consciousness this morning.

For several hours last night the girl was blind, but she is believed to have regained her sight today. A blow over the heart caused her serious condition.

District Attorney W. C. Burchinal and County Detective W. B. Dinsmore today visited the girl's home in Fallowfield Township and are directing the search for the assailants. Constable Joseph Andrews is also working on the case.

A check is being made on two numbers repeated by the girl and believed to be part of the license number on a machine in which her assailants were traveling.

CHURCH UNION DRAWS NEAR

Possibility of the joint commissions meeting today in adopting articles of agreement for the union of the Methodist Episcopal and the Methodist Protestant was expressed.

The commissions, headed by Bishop C. L. Mead, of Denver, for the Methodist Episcopal church, and the Rev. Dr. J. G. Broomfield, both have decided upon layman representation on the general conference. Bishop Mead said the only point on this question would be the representative number.

The joint conference is being held in the William Penn Hotel and followed separate sessions of the commissions. Bishop Mead declared it was impossible to predict the successful culmination of merger plans today, but that the members were hopeful.

COUNTY BUDGET NEARLY READY

The County Commissioners probably will finish their budget making for 1932 today without any probability of a cut in taxes and a possible increase of the millage in the county, outside the city, if the Poor Directors' relief program goes through.

At yesterday's budget session a total of $183,000 was cut from the budget of the Department of Public Works. As soon as the budgeting is finished, the Commissioners will begin salary board sessions. They probably will complete their work and set the 1932 millage this week.

DEATH DRIVER FACES TESTS

Remanded to jail, Albert Seriano, 21, of 620 Altmeyer avenue, Sharpsburg, is today awaiting a mental test ordered by Judge James H. Gray, in Criminal Court, following his pleading guilty to voluntary manslaughter, two charges of aggravated assault and battery and larceny of an automobile. He will be sentenced after the doctors decide his mental condition.

Seriano was indicted in connection with the death of Morris Williams, 55, of 68 Logan street, May 25, killed at North Negley avenue and Hays street when a stolen car, driven by Seriano, ran over the curb into a crowd waiting for a street car. Frank Cohen, 237 North Craig street, was the owner of the stolen car. Besides killing Williams, the machine injured Meyer Kalson, 515 Protectory place, and Mrs. G. Finegold, Morrowfield Apartments. Seriano admitted having four drinks.

FINED FOR SHOT ROUSING CHUM

Carter explained bullet holes found by police in the walls and the bottom of a chair by saying he and friends had held target practice in his apartment New Year's Eve.

Carter was fined $50 or 30 days in jail by Magistrate Ray Schneider. His companions, Frank Crehan, Alex Miller and Sterret McKee, of the North Side, were discharged.

$420,000 ISSUE HELPS RELIEF PROJECTS

Public Improvement Loan Floated After 2 Months; Council Grants $44,000

Pittsburgh's $420,000 municipal improvement bond issue, on the market for nearly two months, was disposed of late yesterday by City Controller James P. Kerr. The Union Trust Company of Pittsburgh was the purchaser.

Sale of the bonds, according to Public Works Director Edward G. Lang, will prevent the dismissal of nearly 3,000 laborers on improvement projects in conjunction with the Allegheny County Emergency Association.

The men Lang informed Council were to be dismissed Saturday, unless funds were granted. Council immediately appropriated $5,000 of the fund for unemployed relief work on Commerce way, East End, and $35,000 for work on dirt streets. Lang's original request for nearly $100,000 to carry on the work until April 1 was denied upon advice from Maj. Philip Mathews, of the Bureau of Governmental Research.

The appropriations made will carry the work on until February 16.

COUNTY RELIEF GRANT LIKELY

Allegheny County's $500,000 proposed subscription to the Welfare Fund and the Allegheny County Emergency Association may be made as an appropriation for public work, Special Counsel Mortimer B. Lesher was expected to advise the County Commissioners today.

Acceding to a plea of a delegation of Welfare Fund officials, headed by W. L. Mellon, for $500,000 needed to insure success of the campaign, the County Commissioners yesterday promised the subscription if it could be made legally.

Pittsburgh industrial leaders including Mellon, E. R. Crawford, Joseph Dilworth, Frank Chesterman, Ralph Flinn, Frank Leovy, Frank Bell, E. W. Mudge, A. E. Braun, John F. Casey, F. F. Brooks, W. P. Witherow, Thomas A. Dunn, W. S. Linderman, John Frazer and A. K. Oliver were in the delegation.

Treaty Seems Ruined by Own Amendments

—By ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER—

Like most of our documents the Versailles Peace Treaty seems to be ruined by its amendments.

Diplomats are like little boys. They make a nice wagon and then paint it the wrong color.

Article 430 of the treaty gives France the power to again chin itself on the Rhine if Germany boots the reparation payments.

Germany has done that little detail and now France can scamper north in the taxicabs that saved Paris and ruined New York traffic.

If that means the war is started all over again, we've got to either knit sweaters or wear 'em, warm up those Liberty bonds and get the boys back in the trenches by Labor Day so we can get 'em out before Christmas.

After reading Article 430 you wonder why they wrote the first 429.

Probably just to keep the factory running until the orders came in.

Roxie Long Surrenders To U. S. in Rum Case

Roxie DiPippo, alias Roxie Long, late yesterday surrendered at the office of the United States Commissioner, where there is a complaint filed by the prohibition authorities, charging him with conspiring with three others to violate the prohibition law. Pending a hearing he was released under $5,000 bond.

The complaint was filed December 15, a few days before DiPippo was paroled by the State Board of Pardons on a state charge. The parole was opposed in a telegram sent to the board from the office of United States Attorney Louis E. Graham, because of the pending government action against DiPippo.

The government complaint charges DiPippo and the others with unlawful possession of a 150-gallon still November 11, and manufacturing 55 gallons of moonshine.

DiPippo, some years ago, made a sensational escape from the late Detective Patrick 'Happy' Moran, after the latter had brought him to Pittsburgh from France on a state charge. Later he was captured by Moran in Wilkes-Barre, and brought here for trial.

Bond for DiPippo was furnished by Phillip Abraham, of Canonsburg.

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH S. ARMSTRONG . . . HE'S THE WORLD'S OLDEST TEA MERCHANT

Succeeds to 'Title' With Death of Lipton

Joseph S. Armstrong, 79, of 408 Jacksonia street, North Side, is the oldest tea merchant in point of service in the world, he claims, since the death of Sir Thomas Lipton, famous English yachtsman. In 1873 he delivered packages of tea and solicited orders, driving his nag, Petey, through the deep-rutted country roads of Beaver Valley. He probably was the first tea merchant to give away premium coupons with his tea.

In 10 years Armstrong became an expert tea taster. A New York tea company of importers and national distributors bought great quantities of tea on his daily drawn recommendations.

Indian Assam and Ceylon teas are more popular among the American people today than Chinese or Japanese teas, Armstrong said. Although he has retired from active business, he still maintains a small tea shop in the rear of his home to supply some of his old patrons.

The Tuesday Musical Club and the Stephen Foster Memorial Building Association gave its annual concert last night in Carnegie Music Hall to commemorate the death of our beloved song writer. There was a large audience which arose at the end of the program and heartily sang "Old Folks at Home."

Mr. Lissfelt

Dr. Jacob Simpson Payton spoke the invocation and Councilman Robert H. Garland made a brief address with a few reminiscences of pilgrimages to various Foster shrines.

The Foster Singers, a quartet of local singers, Mrs. Esther Edmundson Mohr, Mrs. Lewis E. Young, Mrs. Eda S. Kreiling and Mrs. Anne H. Woesthoff, sang charmingly. These singers appear in crinoline and contribute their earnings to the cause of the Foster memorial building. Mrs. Martha Meyers Murdock played their accompaniments.

The most interesting feature of the program, however, was Ruth Thoburn Knox's string ensemble, which contributed a Mozart Serenade (Eine Kleine Nachtmusic) and the Prelude to the first act of Wagner's "Lohengrin." Mrs. Knox has the embryo of a fine miniature orchestra here, and has schooled them well. Earl Mitchell assisted at the organ during the Wagner music.

VOTE MACHINES TO GET SAFETY DEVICES

Warning Bell, Special Lock To Be Attached to Curb Possibility of Tampering

In addition to the changes recommended by Secretary of the Commonwealth Richard J. Beamish, Allegheny County's voting machines are to be equipped with a bell or buzzer and locks that require the presence of three persons to open them.

Representatives of the Poole Engineering and Machine Company conferred with the Commissioners yesterday. They said that the machines probably will be altered so that they can be used in the spring primary election.

Eight machines were shipped back to Baltimore yesterday. These will be used for checking the additional parts that will be required in making the suggested changes. The work on the rest of the 1,100 machines will be done in the basement of the new County Building.

BEGIN NEW TEST OF TALBOT BILL

HARRISBURG, Jan. 14.—(AP)—The commonwealth today instituted mandamus proceedings against three of its officials in an amicable suit to test the constitutionality of the Talbot $10,000,000 direct unemployment relief measure.

Attorney General William A. Schnader, on behalf of the commonwealth, instituted in the local court a petition for a peremptory mandamus on Mrs. Alice F. Liveright, secretary of welfare; Auditor General Charles A. Waters, and State Treasurer Edward Martin, commanding them to make the necessary requisitions and payments to county poor agencies in accordance with the terms of the Talbot bill.

WOMAN FREED AS EMBEZZLER

Mrs. Bessie Yatkofsky, who Attorney J. I. Simon charged was being persecuted by the District Attorney's office, was acquitted of an embezzlement charge in Criminal Court today. She showed the reason 26 creditors of the estate of her husband, Rubin Yatkofsky of Turtle Creek, had not been paid was because of foreclosure proceedings against the estate.

The prosecutor, Anna O. Cofsky, her sister-in-law, was directed to pay the costs.

When the case was first called for trial a month ago, Simon charged before Judge Harry Rowand that Mrs. Yatkofsky was being persecuted because of influence exerted in the District Attorney's office by Attorney Earl F. Reed. Judge Rowand thereupon ordered the trial postponed.

Concert to Feature European Music

A concert of Jewish music will be presented at the annual neighborhood tea to be held at the Irene Kaufmann Settlement Sunday night. The concert will be presented in the theater, after which there will be a dance in the gymnasium. The dance will be unusual, inasmuch as the orchestra will play only music for dances typical of the old European countries.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down and out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If that bile is not flowing freely, your food don't digest. It just decays in the bowels, ferments and forms gases that bloat up your stomach. You have a sick, bad taste and your breath is foul; often often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Harmless. Substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Colds on the chest may mean serious congestion. This congestion in bronchial tubes and air passages must be relieved by bringing fresh blood to the congested parts. Rubbed in freely, the deeply penetrating qualities of BAUME BENGUE (pronounced Ben-Gay) stimulate outer-chest circulation, loosen deeper congestion and usually breaks the cold up over night.

Ben-Gay relieves the pains of rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica and neuritis quickly and safely without harmful drugs. Ben-Gay has been prescribed for over 30 years, for every pain of nerve and muscle. Ask for Ben-Gay and do not accept weaker substitutes.

Always Dead Tired?

How sad! Sallow complexion, coated tongue, poor appetite, bad breath, pimply skin and always tired. What's wrong? Chances are you're poisoned by clogged bowels and inactive liver. Take this famous prescription used constantly in place of calomel by men and women for 70 years—Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. They are harmless yet very effective. A compound of vegetable ingredients. They act easily upon the bowels, help free the system of poison caused by faulty elimination and tone up liver.

Rosy cheeks, clear eyes and youthful energy make a success of life. Take Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets nightly. Know them by their olive color. 15c, 30c and 60c. All druggists.

DRAMA -:- Pittsburgh Author Writes About the Theater -:- AMUSEMENTS -:- News and Notes About Stage and Screen

Thomas Wood Stevens' Book Tells Whole History Of the Theater

By GEORGE SEIBEL

Because of his long association with Tech Drama School, Thomas Wood Stevens may be considered technically a Pittsburgher, and his new history of the drama will interest all Pittsburgh playgoers. He has given his book an all inclusive title, "The Theater from Athens to Broadway" (published by Appleton) and has illustrated it with some of his own drawings in black and white. It might be called an impressionistic work, but its facts are authentic and well marshaled for responsible study.

He starts off with Thespis and Solon. Thespis was the first actor, who added to himself a mask and fitted it up with changes of make-up and wardrobe and made the rounds of the small towns of Greece after he was ready to [illegible] Solon, the wise legislator, [illegible] a menace. He regarded the actor, pretending to be someone else [illegible] Thespis changing his make-up pretending to be a number of different people as a pitiful liar and not to be encouraged.

George Seibel

Stevens says there are always Solons and they have beset the path of the theater from the beginning until tomorrow.

The humble beginnings of drama in Greece are well set forth in the sentence devoted to the father of tragedy:

"Aeschylus not only wrote his set of four plays, but acted them, composed their music devised their dances, designed their masks and costumes, and taught them words, music, dances and all by word of mouth."

This began the art which he swallowed [illegible] the other arts interfered by that.

ROME AND MIDDLE AGES

Stevens goes on to describe the theater of the Romans who had no taste for the subtleties of tragedy. They wanted what the circus gave them: thrills and personalities. "The Romans also we have with us today."

India gave the world one of the oldest dramas, Kalidasa, who wrote in Sanskrit and whose "Little Clay Cart" is still played even in European and American theaters. The Chinese theater was founded by Emperor Ming Huang in the eighth century, who took personal command of the players and gave them his pear orchard to rehearse.

Then came the Middle Ages with the development of mystery, miracle and morality plays. Some of these were tragedies in every sense. The famous mystery "The Acts of the Apostles" had more than 60,000 lines about as long as 20 plays of Shakespeare in a string. The drama in England began under Richard III who engaged players for his court. The ingratitude of republics is nothing compared with the ingratitude of the actors who have made Richard III the outstanding villain of drama.

SHAKESPEARE AND MOLIERE

Stevens' account of the Elizabethan theater is also graphic but there is little about Shakespeare the soul of that age. Then came Cromwell and Prynne who closed all theaters in 1642 and nearly killed the English drama in its teens.

Meanwhile there arose in France the greatest dramatist after Shakespeare, the upholsterer's son known as Moliere. The theater which in England had been born in an inn, in France was nurtured in a tennis court. The account of Moliere is much ampler than that of Shakespeare, Marlowe and their fellows. Garrick also comes upon the scene as a living personality. When Quin saw Garrick act and said, "If that young man is right, then I and all the other actors are wrong," modern stage art had its beginning. Since then the actor is considered the best actor who does the least acting.

Perhaps the most satisfactory of all the chapters in Stevens' book is the one on the Comedie Francaise, which follows the fortunes of that institution from Richelieu through Victor Hugo to the present day. The origins of the German drama in Mannheim and Weimar also receive careful treatment, aside from the inexcusable blunder of leaving an "n" out of the word Meiningen, which is not a printer's error, since it is repeated half a dozen times.

THE AMERICAN STAGE

In America Spanish soldiers presented a play in New Mexico in 1598, after the Pueblo revolt had been put down. This play, still performed from time to time at Santa Fe, was the beginning of the theater in America. The English drama had its start as an avocation of wig-makers, sustained by exiles from theaters of London. The first American actor of standing and renown was Lewis Hallam. His company put on 21 plays during six months in New York. Mr. Sobel was much in evidence during those early days of the American theater. The result is thus told by Stevens:

"A theater could not hope to exist if called a theater, hence the various locutions, lyceum, exhibition room, museum and, finally, opera house, the favorite term in the early nineteenth century, when there was seldom an offering which could by any shift be rated an opera."

The first American playwright was Thomas Godfrey, whose Prince of Parthia was a flop in 1767. The latest is Eugene O'Neill, but Stevens flies a large kite when he demands for the future:

"A good rebel, steadier than O'Neill, less the journalist than Shaw, more versatile than Pirandello, more purely dramatic than any of these."

Optimistically he hopes for the best.

Plays, Players and By-Play

By WILLIAM J. LEWIS

Our own show-boater, Billy Bryant, who has been giving Chicago something to talk about will end his tenancy of a leading legitimate theater there Saturday with the final performance of "East Lynne" and then will move on to conquer New York or die in the attempt. Our only glimpse of Bill on the local stage was his appearance as Sample Switchel in the George Sharp production of "Ten Nights in a Barroom."

Don and Kate appeared together a couple of years ago on a unit touring the Orpheum (now the O. of RKO) time in the West. Even as an unknown Miss Smith was a Big Timer, it seems.

THOUSANDS DEFIED DEATH to bring it to you! No thrill ever to equal it!

HELL DIVERS

Wallace Beery — Clark Gable

AT RISK OF HUMAN LIFE!

Never before, surely never again, can it happen! Human life is too precious. But this story demanded production. It was so great, it had to come to life! Lieut.-Com. Frank Wead, a retired naval officer wrote it. His love story is flung against a spectacular background hitherto unapproached for sheer thrill!

DIRECTED BY the man who made "THE BIG HOUSE"

George Hill, up to now, has enjoyed fame because of "The Big House." From now on you'll think of him as the man who made "Hell Divers."

You're Invited Aboard the Airplane Carrier Saratoga

Here is the miracle ship from whose deck bombing-planes rise like clouds of insects. What a setting for drama! From this deck goes the plane whose adventures reach into the life of a young girl, creating a situation of love and sacrifice to grip your soul!

It Took a Government to Help Make This Picture!

The U. S. Government loaned its Navy to help create an American Epic. Thanks to those men who knew no fear in making "Hell Divers" and to those government officials who made it possible to bring the public a Giant entertainment of modern times.

Hundreds of Bombing Planes! Ships and Men Uncounted! YOU WILL WITNESS THINGS never before seen on any screen!

WOMEN OF THE FLEET!

Easy prey for red-lips are sailormen ashore in Panama. But when Wallace Beery as "Windy" pays hard-boiled courtship to Marjorie Rambeau as "Mayme Kelso" you'll see something new in romances. Beery will give you many a hearty laugh. And a tear or two! What an actor!

With CONRAD NAGEL, DOROTHY JORDAN, MARJORIE RAMBEAU, MARIE PREVOST

Here is one of the truly great pictures produced for the screen, not only because it is the most ambitious talkie ever yet attempted, but because this human story matches tears and laughs and romance for every spectacular thrill in it. Do you want adventure? You'll risk your life in a daredevil flight...you'll barrel-roll and plunge earthward . . . you'll conquer the dangers of sea and air . . . you'll fight your best pal and win the heart of the woman you want. You'll laugh and cry and sit on the edge of your seat with thumping heart when you go to see this magnificent spectacle.

Navy Shows Off in Film

THE GLOBE TROTTER

Unusual interest attaches to the coming naval maneuvers in the Pacific Ocean, off Hawaii, because of the situation in the Far East and the recent troubles in Honolulu. For the first time in many years the Atlantic and Pacific fleets will be combined in one big war game. Hearst Metrotone News in its current issue, being seen in the Penn, Fulton and other theaters, shows pictures of the fighting ships at sea preparing for the rendezvous, with a graphic description by The Globe Trotter. Battleships, destroyers and other units of the Navy are shown, while airplanes maneuver overhead.

Some time back in October a dance marathon was started in a Newark, N. J., hall. They're still at it. Girls and men appear to be in the last stages of exhaustion, but dance on.

FLOOD SCENES

Exclusive pictures show the roaring waters of the Tallahatchie River pushing through a hundred-foot break in the levee near Swan Lake, Miss. Villagers of Sumner rescuing their belongings from flooded houses, boys marooned on roofs and shouting for help and livestock being led through the streets of Webb are among the striking scenes.

William Randolph Hearst, noted publisher, asks the question, "Who Will be the Next President?" and discusses the importance of the voters themselves determining the nominees and making sure their selections are not made by the international bankers. Mr. Hearst also emphasizes the imperative necessity of electing a real American whose motto will be "America First."

FASHIONABLE ARCHERY

St. Moritz has a ski school for children directed by Prof. Domenico, famous jumper.

Society girls at the fashionable Marlborough School at Los Angeles, practice archery and show themselves to be expert.

Prominent members of the Crusaders, famous organization opposed to prohibition, visit Washington and present a petition to the House and Senate asking legislation to permit the manufacture of beer. Senator Bingham (Rep.), from Connecticut, receives the petition and declares "the brewing of beer will produce close to half a billion dollars in much needed revenue for the depleted federal Treasury."

Marian Nixon Making Third Talk Picture Since Her Come-Back

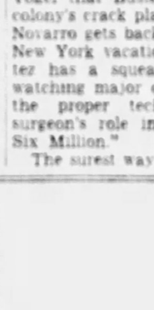
By HARRISON CARROLL

(Copyright, 1932, by King Features Syndicate)

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 14.

Comeback road is a hard one, but Marian Nixon has traveled it and now has another long-term contract almost within her grasp.

Fox plans to sign her up, I understand, after she finishes "Scott's Valley," opposite Warner Baxter. This is an assignment you haven't heard about before, and it is her third in a row at the Westwood Studio. She started out in a Charley Chan thriller and is just completing a role opposite Charles Farrell.



Marian Nixon

For all her youth, Marian is a comparative old-timer in Hollywood. She is one of the many film stars who began their screen careers at Mack Sennett's. Before that she was a dancer.

LATEST GOSSIP

Jack Oakie and tall, blond Virginia Bruce are going places together. But Jack has a fickle fancy and no inferences are in order . . . Jimmy Durante found a polo ball, so now he's pricing ponies . . . Hollywood is to have its endurance bridge-game. Bob Vokel, the man who negotiated the sale of "Grand Hotel," has bet Buster Keaton $100 that he and his wife can defeat Buster and any partner over a period of three nights. Nobody told Vokel that Buster is one of the colony's crack players . . . Ramon Novarro gets back today from his New York vacation . . . Ric Cortez has a squeamish job. He's watching major operations to get the proper technique for his surgeon's role in "Symphony of Six Million."

Ramon Novarro

The surest way to locate old favorites is to check up the cast of the Thalian comedies, which Bryan Foy is producing. In his latest are Kenneth Harlan, Viola Dana and Patsy Ruth Miller . . . Hollywood is mourning the death of J. Grubb Alexander, veteran scenarist, who succumbed to pneumonia. The popular writer was so anxious to complete the script of "So Big" that he refused to take to his bed . . . Another tragedy that strikes home is the killing of Detective Lieut. Hugh A. Crowley, who was shot down in a theater holdup. Crowley was a "dress-suit" detective, and was a familiar figure at all the big premieres.

BLUFFITES NOW IN LOCAL FRONT ROW

WHEN THEY WERE given a chance to meet Carnegie Tech in football they held the Tartans to a scoreless tie. When they were given a chance to meet Pitt in basketball they trounced the Panther varsity with a breathing margin to spare and incidentally they copped the freshman preliminary game as well to go home with a clean sweep for the night. So there can be no denying that those up-and-coming Duquesne University lads have made good with a vengeance in their first opportunities to compete with the two other major schools of the city.

Marty Reiter

That 28 to 21 victory which the elusive Marty Reiter and his mates rammed home at the expense of the Pitt passers last night in their initial meeting with one of the other big local floor teams was decisive in every way. The comparatively inexperienced Bluffites, fighting for a place in the sun, took the lead at the start, held it all the way, and there was never any doubt as to which was the better team of the night.

THE OUTCOME CONFIRMED the opinion of many local fans that Chick Davies has been turning out real major college fives for several years, and that the Dukes record only an opportunity to prove their ability to cope with the fastest of local competition. And the win was all the more impressive because the Red and Blue wearers had had only two earlier games to prepare them for the big test.

It was another big step toward establishing the Dukes in the front ranks of local intercollegiate athletics. They may have harder sledding later in the two games to be played with Carnegie Tech on January 30 and March 4 but they'll be clicking better by that time and may be depended on for a creditable showing regardless of the results. The Bluffites have earned a position that makes three-cornered competition for future city college championships a certainty.

THOUGH THE TRANSFER of Outfielder Lance Richbourg from the Braves to the Cubs was a straight cash deal, it develops that there was some sort of side agreement for a second dicker whereby Boston would get a player from Chicago.

At first the Braves tried to acquire Catcher Gabby Hartnett. These efforts failed and now President Emil Fuchs admits he is negotiating for another Cub player and expects to land him within the next two or three weeks.

STILL THEY COME. Pitchers Fred Fitzsimmons and Red Lucas, of the Giants and Reds, respectively, have balked at the salary terms offered by their clubs and joined the holdout parade, and Catcher Rick Ferrell declares he won't consider any contract from the Browns unless it calls for a $2,000 increase over last year's figures. The rebel army is growing fast. In past years public sympathy and support have been largely on the side of the players in their salary wrangles with the magnates, but this time the man who is hunting high and low for a job without success may not be overly enthusiastic in the cause of ball players who are demanding sums around $20,000 to $25,000 for six months' work, with a trip of six or seven weeks to the Sunny South thrown in.

Ernie Sesto

IF YOU HAVEN'T noticed the social tone that boxing is taking on as a college sport, just drop in at Carnegie Tech about 8:15 Saturday night and get an eyeful of the setting when Coach Ernie Sesto's Tartan glovemen open the local season in a meet with the West Virginia University team.

Swank's the word. It's to be formal dress, if you please. Following the custom established at other colleges, Carnegie Tech is urging that spectators wear formal attire. A similar request will be made in connection with later boxing meets, and as an inducement to swell the response it is promised that those wearing the tuxes and white fronts will be given the better seats.

BOXING HAS BECOME one of the most popular branches of college indoor athletic entertainment and Carnegie is entering wholeheartedly into the movement to continue its advancement and add to its attractiveness.

West Virginia has a veteran team, presenting only two new faces as compared with last season's array, but the Skibos have been coming along fast and promise to give a good account of themselves. Carnegie will go to Morgantown for a return meet January 23.

IN A LETTER from Beaver, Regis Pothercater calls attention to the size of the players on the Beaver High School basketball team. The present squad is the tallest in the history of the school, the five first-string men averaging 6 feet 2½ inches, with one substitute standing 6 feet 2 inches and several others closely approaching 6 feet. The center stands 6 feet 5 inches; the left forward, 6-1; the right forward, 6-3; the right guard, 6-2, and the left guard 6 feet and one-half inch. The team is enjoying a good season, having won from Girard, Monaco, Sewickley and Aliquippa, and lost only to Beaver Falls by three points and to Sewickley by two.

ARRANGEMENTS HAVE PROGRESSED to such a point as practically to assure that a professional basketball game will be played here Friday night, January 29, the opposing teams to be the Rosenblum Celtics of Cleveland and the Brooklyn Visitations, last season's winners in the American League.

The Visitations have the reputation of being a fiery, fighting combination, one of the most aggressive teams ever assembled, and they make it a basketball game every time they step on the court. It is planned to bring the Rosenblums and Renaissance Negro five together in a game here later in the season.

ALL BOXING BOUTS hereafter in Alexandria, Va., near Washington, will be handled by Referee Charles Short of Baltimore alone, this being one of the few places in the country where decisions are given only by the referee, without the assistance of judges.

Short has had an unusual career. He was a fighter from 1908 to 1921, taking part in 320 contests, and since 1921 he has refereed more than 1,000 college boxing meets and thousands of amateur, service and professional events, almost 13,000 bouts in all. He handled more than 1,000 contests in college championships and dual meets without having to call a foul.

Bill Sullivan, Jr.

IT IS THE opinion of football men that Bill Sullivan, Jr., practically cut as coach at McKeesport High School in spite of having made an excellent record during his two seasons there, will not be long unattached. He is recognized as one of the best young coaches in this part of the country and more than one other school may shortly seek his services. One of Sullivan's strongest boosters is Dr. J. B. Sutherland, head coach at Pitt. The McKeesporter frequently consulted Sutherland on football matters and talked over gridiron problems with him. The Panther mentor says he found Sullivan to have a sound knowledge of football and of the right way to teach it, and has a high opinion of his ability, giving him a lofty rating among the scholastic coaches of the district.

LAST NIGHT'S RESULT
Montreal 2—Chicago 1

By CARL W. SHATTO

The Yellow Jackets, who recently broke London's nine-game winning streak, will attempt to snap another success string when they meet the Detroit Olympics in an International Hockey League game at Duquesne Garden tonight.

In their last six games the local skaters have garnered three victories and absorbed three defeats. Because two of these setbacks came in their last two starts, while Capt. Tory Gregg and Doc Romnes were out with injuries, the Redmen are regarded as being in a slump. Trying to shake a slump at the expense of Detroit is something of a task, for the Motorcitymen have not been defeated since December 22, and they have engaged in six combats since that time.

ROMNES BACK

Romnes, who remained out of the tilts with Buffalo and Syracuse to rest a crippled shoulder, is back in pretty fair condition, which means that the Olympics may get first-hand information as to why he was a sensation during the few weeks that he spent with London last season. The severed muscle in Gregg's leg has not mended as rapidly as Gregg and Coach Reid anticipated and there still is some question as to whether Tory will be able to play tonight. He is determined to do so, if it is at all possible.

The Jacarts, who handed the Olympics seven straight defeats last season, have lost two and tied one in three meetings with their Michigan formen this season. The invaders should offer stronger opposition than ever before tonight, for Art Gagne, former Les Canadiens and Ottawa National League wing, has joined their squad since they last appeared here.

GREGG MAY PLAY

In the event that Gregg is able to participate in the milling, Coach Reid will line up his forwards as follows: First front line—Miller at center, Arbour at left wing and Dunning at right wing; second line—Rodden at center, Romnes at left wing and Barton at right wing; third line, Fields at center, Proudlock at left wing and Gregg at right wing.

Art Berlett has not been able to participate in recent drills because of a heavy cold but he will be out to provide relief for the defensemen. Matte will continue to start with Fraser at the points. The probable lineup:

| | |
|---|---|
| Lyons | Matte |
| Rogers | Fraser |
| Arbour | Rodden |
| Dunning | Barton |
| Miller | Romnes |
| Proudlock | Fields |
| Gregg | Berlett |

Casey as Boxing Chief Causes Stir

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 14.—(AP.)—The Crimson, Harvard undergraduate daily, in an editorial today expressed concern at the appointment of Eddie Casey, Harvard football coach, as a member of the Massachusetts Boxing Commission.

The editorial branded professional boxing as a "well-controlled racket" and said it would be hard for many to reconcile the fact that Harvard's name and the name of her head coaches will be mentioned continually with professional boxing which is today less an athletic virtue and more a well-controlled racket."

Grove to Address Monessen Students

MONESSEN, Pa., Jan. 14.—Lefty Grove, star pitcher of the Philadelphia Athletics, will be the guest of the local volunteer fire department today. This afternoon he will address the students of the Monessen High School, telling of his recent trip to Japan with the major league barnstormers, and at 7:30 tonight he will speak in the local Council chamber.

Following this meeting there will be a smoker at the Polish Club. Other speakers will be Hans Wagner, Tom Quinn and Jock Menefee, Monessen councilman.

He was honorably discharged in 1903, after 58 years of service. At the age of 107, Livingston is the oldest man to wear a Navy uniform. AGUA CALIENTE, Mex., Jan. 14.—(AP.)—Old man par was bested by three strokes over the Agua Caliente course yesterday, in the first round of the $15,000 open tournament here by Fred Morrison, Culver City, Cal., professional. He scored 36-33—69.

Leo Diegel, home pro, and Gene Sarazen, New York, lopped two strokes off for 70s. Charles Sommers, youthful professional from Los Angeles, and present holder of the Southern California caddie championship, and Charley Guest, of Deal, N. J., clipped off one stroke, for 71s.

MacDonald Smith, New York, who won the $7,500 Los Angeles open, found the muddy course much to his distaste. He could do no better than a 78.

The field will be cut after today's play to 80 professionals, and on Saturday morning only 60 professionals will be allowed to go to the tee. All of the amateurs will play the remaining three rounds of 18 holes.

BUCKEYES BACK ON PITT CARD

Pitt and Ohio State will meet on the gridiron again next fall.

The game has been made possible by the withdrawal of North Carolina State from its contest with Pitt on October 22.

Formal announcement will not be made until Saturday by both Pitt and Ohio State, by which time it will cease to be news.

LUTHER, ERATH ARE SIGNED

By VERN SWARTSFAGER

Springlike weather is bringing out springlike news—golf news. Today two new professionals are reported "seated" for the season to come, with the likelihood that several others will be shifted between now and the opening of the season, several months in the offing.

Most striking of the changes is the acceptance of the job at Valley Heights by Ted Luther, lanky Corry (Pa.) Country Club professional, than whom there have ever been few better in this sector.

Paul E. (Toots) Erath, West Penn caddiemasters' champion for two consecutive years, who has been knocking at the door, so to speak, for some time, has stepped into the shoes vacated by the smiling personality found in capable Jimmy O'Donnell at the Edgewood Country Club, and should make good.

If you've heard the rumor that Dave McCormick is to be supplanted at St. Clair, don't believe it—Dave is well signed and will be back on the job as usual this spring.

Equipoise May Not Return to Races

RED BANK, N. J., Jan. 14.—(AP.)—Chances that Equipoise, which went wrong on the eve of the last Kentucky Derby, will return to the races this spring are none too bright at C. V. Whitney's Brookdale Farm here.

Equipoise, now a 4-year-old, was thrown out of training prior to the Preakness, but ran in the event, finishing fourth. He went on to the Derby, but a blind crack was discovered a few hours before post time and as a result the winter book favorite was withdrawn for the first time in the history of the Blue Grass classic.

Since then the big bay son of Pennant has been in retirement. To the casual visitor he appears fit and ready for another crack at Twenty Grand or Male.

PANTHERS LACK DASH AGAINST BLUFFITES

GAMES TONIGHT

Concord at Fairmont.
Alderson at New River.

By JESS CARVER

Pitt's rule as basketball king of the city came to an abrupt ending last night as the Panthers tested strength with Duquesne's admirable Dukes. In the first meeting on the court in history between rival quintets of the two local universities, the Dukes came off on top, by a score of 28 to 21, in a game that drew a capacity rafter-hanging crowd of 4,200.

It was a contest that had been looked forward to for many years by followers of both schools. It is a shame that they can't meet again, or for the best out of three games, for one clash in basketball does not necessarily stamp a champion.

VICTORY CLEAN-CUT

Duquesne's margin of triumph was clean-cut, however, and the Dukes deserve all the laurels of the evening. Coach Chick Davies, head mentor of the Bluffites, turned loose a well-drilled, smart and accomplished caste, which hopped away to a lead almost at the gun and held it, despite the most desperate and magnificent Pitt efforts, until the contest was over. It was a deserved, rousing and highly complimentary triumph. The hats of all Duquesne University are doffed to Coach Davies and his men today.

Pitt, and not to take away from the glory of Duquesne's victory, looked tired and worn, and lacked the dash, vim and vigor that Dr. Carlson's passers have exhibited in the past. That long trip to the Coast—what a toll it must have taken!

At the end of the half, Duquesne led by 13 to 11, and had not Timmy Lawry and Don McCamant, Pitt stars, sunk long ones just before the timer's gun cracked, Duquesne would have been out in front by 13 to 7. Pitt, usually extremely formidable under the hoop, was off last night, and besides, found it tougher than tough to even get there. Chick Davies had a defense for Pitt and HOW he had a defense!

REITER, MOORE STAR

Little Marty Reiter, who, by the way, turned out to be the star of the ball game, and Dudey Moore, just a sophomore from Schenley High School, accounted for Duquesne's first half points, or most of 'em. Dudey sank three baskets and Marty two, while Joe MacDougal, the rangy forward, plunked the other one through.

Pitt's first half points were scored by Timmy Lawry, who tallied two baskets and three fouls; Willie Kowallis and Donnie McCamant with one field goal each. Not so good, for Pitt.

After the intermission, the Dukes got under way in no uncertain terms. Dudey Moore, MacDougal and Feldman dumped two-pointers. McCamant was good for a brace of points at the foul line, but MacDougal came through with a field goal and a foul to put the Dukes far and away out in front.

The smart folks in the audience, those who knew what it all was about, were fully resigned to the Duke victory by this time. They held out later on, too, when Lawry and Kowallis flung long ones to pull Pitt up to within five points of the Dukes at 23-15. The wiseacres simply smiled and looked to Marty Reiter and the other Dukes to shake it all off. Shake it off they did. And how they did!

LAWRY HIGH SCORER

McGeever, who captains the Dukes, dumped one, a pip of a shot, from outside, and then Reiter followed with another from beyond the free throw circle. Those two goals put the ball game on ice. From then on it was just a case of getting it over and done with.

As it was, Timmy Lawry wound up with the high scoring honors for the evening, getting four goals from the floor and three fouls for 11 points. Dude Moore, with four buckets and a foul led the victors with nine.

The triumph was a feather in the cap of Chick Davies. His team was aces on the offense and aces and kings on the defense. It made few mistakes, played heads-up and smart ball and deserved the triumph.

Duquesne rang up a dozen field goals to seven for Pitt. Duquesne accounted for six in each half, which is consistency itself. But most consistent was the defensive play of the Red and Blue. It kept Pitt at bay, and when you are at bay, the well known stag hasn't a thing on you.

In a preliminary tussle that went into extra periods, the Duquesne freshmen defeated the

JACOBS CALLS OFF MIAMI TITLE FIGHT

MAX'S PILOT CANCELS BOUT AFTER DELAY

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—(AP)—The proposed heavyweight title bout between Max Schmeling and Mickey Walker, planned for Miami, February 25, has been ordered canceled by Joe Jacobs, manager of Champion Max Schmeling.

Jacobs announced he had notified William F. Carey, president of Madison Square Garden, that "the fight is off."

His main reason for calling off the bout, he explained, was that apparently it would not draw more than $100,000 at Miami, whereas any title bout in which Schmeling participated should draw at least $500,000.

Contracts for the 15-round Miami bout were to have been signed yesterday afternoon, but Jacobs refused to affix his signature to the documents.

The cancellation followed upon some nine days of delay in signing the necessary papers after terms had virtually been agreed upon.

Primo Carnera vs. Ernest Guhring, 15 rounds, Berlin.

By HARRY KECK
Sports Editor.

Another mess of boxing news on the fire. Let it burn!

Jim McGirr, McKeesport promoter, is pouring his weekly (more or less) tea in his Palisades Arena tonight. He has three 10-round bouts—a triple windup—and a six-rounder.

Mr. Marty McHale, of McKeesport, is meeting Mr. Billy Holt, Homewood's dusky welterweight socker, socially in the main event, with Billy Flanagan, of Braddock, and Jimmy Moore, of the Hill, doing the semi-final honors and Joey Bazzone, of McKeesport, and Mickey DePalmo, of Canton, O., mixing in the first 10 and Jimmy Lozies, of McKeesport, battling Johnny Montebano, of Braddock, in the six-round opener.

RANDALL WANTS TUT

Tiger Joe Randall, Negro welterweight, of Elizabeth, says that if neither Ted Yarosz nor Jimmy Belmont wants King Tut as an opponent, he'll take him and be delighted at the opportunity. In fact, Joe, a good performer, points out that the local promoters never have brought in any famous opponents for him and it's his life ambition to fight the best in his class. And another thing, he asks the fight scribes to please refrain from calling him a veteran. He's had fewer fights than Ted Yarosz, for instance, and we all consider Ted a comparatively young 'un in the game.

Is that Carnegie Tech-West Virginia University boxing meet in the Tech gym Saturday night going to be the spiffy thing? Formal evening dress will be in order for the ringside sections, which means that none of the reporters will be nearer than the farthest exit.

Time was when Jimmy Thomas, local Negro bantamweight, wanted none of Mose Butch because the latter is a southpaw. But circumstances alter cases. That was when Mose was nowhere, and now he's among the rated 118-pounders of the sport and has just had Al Brown, the world titleholder, take a runout on him because of illness, and anyone who fights him in Pittsburgh can get himself a piece of money. So Jimmy's shelved his objections to fighting southpaws and he's in there with Mose in the windup at Motor Square Garden next Monday night.

PRIMO BOXES TONIGHT

Primo Carnera boxes Ernest Guhring in Berlin tonight. Well—O. K., if you don't care; we simply were telling you.

Stanley Poreda, the Jersey City heavyweight, serves as an artist's model when he's not fighting. He meets Salvatore Ruggirello in one of the preliminaries to the Tommy Loughran-Steve Hamas fight in Madison Square Garden, New York, tomorrow night.

Schmeling Boxes George Panka In Exhibition

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 14.—(AP)—Max Schmeling, world heavyweight champion, went through three one-round exhibition bouts here last night and drew a gate of only $3,100.

Weighing 195 pounds, the German took things easy with George Panka, of Pittsburgh, his first sparring partner, and showed only a few left hooks. Uppercuts to the jaw were the feature of his round with George La Rocco, of Newark. He opened up with a variety of blows against Pedro Lopez, of Oklahoma. Using both hands, Schmeling nearly upset Lopez with a straight right to the body.

GARCIA STARS FOR FIFTH AVENUE

By JULIUS LEVIN

Fifth Avenue High School, the home of perennial basketball champions, and one of the favorites to win the Section I title in the City League race, has one of the most promising centers in local scholastic circles in the person of Joe Garcia, captain of the uptown quintet.

Joe Garcia

This boy, a Spaniard, born and reared in Mexico City, has been the talk of the City League fans as a result of his brilliant work in the Schenley and South contests, both of which were won by the Fifth Avenue five after sensational rallies.

Garcia is the type of athlete who is a credit to any basketball team. A fighter who never quits once the game gets under way, Garcia is an ideal floor leader for the uptown passers. His work against Schenley and South bordered on the sensational and as a result Fifth Avenue is right on the heels of the league-leading Connelley aggregation.

Garcia serves as the main spark of the Fifth Avenue attack. He passes with deadly accuracy, keeps his mates from getting riled in the heat of a tough battle and he shoots with telling effect. This boy is going to bear watching in the City League race.

Shots and Passes

That Ranain's fine showing this season is not a flash in the pan is borne out by the manner in which Joe Rosenberg's fighting team is upsetting all comers. Ambridge, Moe Rubenstein's Beaver Valley team, was the latest victim of the undefeated Ranain quintet.

The thrill that comes once in a lifetime was enjoyed by Nick Terlicki, of Fifth Avenue, who pulled a Frank Merriwell to enable the uptowners to defeat South. An unknown substitute who never played a scholastic game, Terlicki was send into the dying moments of the Fifth-South game with the Washington leaders holding a two-point advantage. He was fouled in the act of shooting and was allowed two free shots. Somewhat flustered, Terlicki came through with colors flying by caging both fouls to tie the game and force it into an extra period.

Duquesne High School has November 10 and is open for football games next fall. Teams interested in filling these dates write or call Duquesne High School.

The strength of the City League this season appears to be monopolized by the Section I teams. Aside from South Hills and Allegheny, the Section II quintets lack the appeal of their Section I rivals. Connelley, Fifth Avenue, Schenley, South, Allderdice and Peabody all have well-balanced teams in the Section I fight.

Duquesne High School will open its football season next fall on September 25 by opposing the Midgetown eleven at Duquesne. Mayhall, Stowe Township, Hurst, Somerville, Homestead and South High also will be met by Duquesne.

Mt. Lebanon High, which is making a determined bid for the Section IX basketball championship after enjoying only four success in the pre-season games, expects to have a powerful football team next fall. Coach Henry Legerbi will have most of the veterans of last year's team available. Mt. Lebanon won nine out of 10 games last season, defeating, among others, Art Buhl's Jeannette eleven, now enrolled in the Class AA Conference.

The Allderdice-Connelley game in Section I tomorrow should prove a thriller. Allderdice, fresh from its non-league victory over Turtle Creek, will be out to check the three-game winning streak of the Dickson charges on the latter's home floor. Fifth will be out to make it three straight by engaging Hugh Lambie's Peabody quintet at Peabody. Westinghouse will appear at South.

Perry plays at Carrick, Allegheny at Allegheny Vocational and Langley at South Hills in Section II tomorrow afternoon.

W. & J. SEEKS HANK DAY AS COACH

WASHINGTON, Pa., Jan. 14.—A concerted effort by supporters of Washington High School's athletics to retain Leroy P. (Hank) Day as athletic coach is under way here, since it was learned that Day is being considered for a similar position at Washington and Jefferson College. While neither Day nor those identified with W. and J.'s sports will discuss the possibility of Day, a former Wash-Jeff athlete, assuming coaching duties at his alma mater, persistent rumors prevail he has been made a tentative offer by the college.

According to the most authentic rumors, Day has been approached by representatives of W. and J.'s athletic council with a proposal that he accept the athletic directorship at the college and be active coach of football and track, the question of stipend being the only obstacle in the way of an agreement.

At Washington High, Day has coached all athletic teams and also holds a faculty membership as instructor in physics. His football teams have won more sectional championships for Washington than any other school in the district.

STOCK ADVANCE VIGOROUSLY EXTENDED

Many Shares Rise 1 to 4 in Feverish Short Covering; Some Gains Shaded Later

NEW YORK, Jan. 14—(AP.)—Wholesale desertions from the bear camp were accompanied by a further vigorous extension of the recovery in the stock market today.

Feverish short covering in the first half hour was accompanied by large-scale advances of 3 to 4 points and, while trading turned quieter thereafter the list generally maintained a firm tone and prices in many instances continued to work higher during much of the day. After midday however there was some recession from the best.

Tobaccos were in the forefront of the advance. The American Tobacco issues and Liggett & Myers and Reynolds class B shares advanced 2 to more than 3 points. Miscellaneous issues up 2 to 3 included American Telephone, American Can, Air Reduction, Allied Chemical, Crucible Steel, Colorado Fuel, Republic Steel preferred, Lehman Corporation, Case, Underwood, Elliott, National Surety, Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Nesbitt, Pullman and others. Eastman moved up more than 4. United States Steel moved up more than a point to above 46, or some 10 points over its recent low.

The advance in share prices has now been under way, subject to only slight interruptions, since January 6 and some brokers were inclined to feel that a technical setback may be about due. Nevertheless, the recovery has been accompanied by a substantial restoration of confidence.

Wall street sentiment regarding the steel industry has also improved. While some estimates indicate that United States Steel will show little if anything earned on its common stock in the current quarter, and undoubtedly ran in the red in the previous quarter, there is now an inclination to look for relatively favorable dividend action at the end of this month instead of an omission as expected in many quarters recently.

COTTON STEADY AT ADVANCE

NEW YORK, Jan. 14—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 4 to 5 points on covering and trade buying principally for continental account. March sold at 6.66.

The March position advanced 7 points to 6.70 and at the end of the first half hour the market was 5 to 6 points net higher.

Forbes

Sales Effort Will Govern Sales Volume

—By B. C. FORBES—

Mr. Forbes

"HOW CAN ANYONE forecast 1932 value of sales unless he can forecast the kind of selling that is to be done."

That question was shot at me by Paul G. Hoffman, right-hand man of E. R. Erskine, generalissimo of Studebaker. Mr. Hoffman, young, vigorous, outstanding, impressive specimen of manhood, has earned the right to talk about selling because he built up in California at an extraordinarily early age an amazingly successful automobile selling business. He had earned a fortune by the time the average fellow begins to find his feet. It was his unique record that won the notice of Mr. Erskine. He declared:

"There is altogether too fatalistic an attitude in this country today. Too many people talk as if we are all wholly at the mercy of circumstances and can do nothing whatsoever about it. This mental attitude of surrender, this willingness to accept defeat, is utterly un-American. America was not built up by any such supine spirit.

"Things don't just happen—they have to be made to happen. While it may not be literally true that we are masters of our own fate, nevertheless it is less true that we are powerless to shape our own fate, that we are powerless to mold circumstances, and that we are powerless to overcome difficulties.

"How many automobiles will be sold this year will depend a very great deal on the amount of ingenuity, initiative, brains, effort and enterprise put into selling. The companies that will do better than others are the ones that do the best selling job. Even the very finest product has to be sold these days.

"Let sales managers and salesmen get it into their heads that upon them depends in no small measure the degree of progress to be made by America between now and the end of the year. It is up to all of us to exert ourselves as never before to cause things to happen. And we can do it!"

ROBERT W. WOODRUFF, president of a leading soft drink concern, who is in New York attending the automobile show in his capacity as chairman of White Motor, tells me that the soft drink company actually succeeded in earning more money last year than in 1930.

A NEW YORK financier recently told me that he regarded Bob Woodruff as the ablest of all American's younger generation of business executives. He is too one of the most modest. It was only with difficulty that I drew from him that his company went ahead last year despite conditions. When I asked him how it was done instead of claiming any credit for himself, he replied:

"We spent $1,000,000 more in advertising than we did in 1930. That enabled us to increase our profits. But our gain was really not enough to speak about—only some 5 per cent."

How many businessmen would feel they had performed miracles if they had even held their own last year?

ANOTHER INDUSTRIAL company president, Harlow H. Curtice, has just achieved an extraordinary record.

Mr. Curtice tells me that while last year was quite a satisfactory one with them, this year promises to be very much better. He is employing some 40 per cent more workers than a year ago and is energetically expanding manufacturing facilities.

AUTOMOBILE VISITORS in common with most other business visitors to New York, complain that the atmosphere in New York is so depressing they speedily escape from it and have no desire to get into it a second time. Somehow these stalwarts from different parts of the country strike one as having more backbone, more determination, more gregarism.

WHEAT PRICES SHOW GAINS

CHICAGO, Jan. 14—(AP.)—Influenced by fresh upturns in Wall street securities, grains scored an early advance today. Liverpool reports of large offerings of Argentine wheat failed to act as an offset. Opening ⅛-⅜ higher, Chicago wheat futures held near the initial limits. Corn started ¼-⅜ up and showed little tendency to react.

Wheat bulls emphasized assertions of likelihood that the United States may be called upon to supply a larger share of prospective increased export demand for North American wheat.

Enlarged Russian exports of wheat attracted considerable notice, but were without any noticeable influence as a price factor.

The following quotations on the Chicago Board of Trade are reported by A. E. Masten & Co.:

Hughes Mentioned As Farrell's Successor

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—(INS.)—James A. Farrell's resignation as president of the United States Steel Corporation, effective April 18, evoked speculation in Wall street today as regards his successor.

Lone Star Gas Unchanged, Blaw Knox Sells Higher; Trading Volume Is Light

Security prices on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange continued to follow their own course today, ignoring more or less the vigorous opening on the "big board." Local prices moved rather listlessly in view of the upturns in New York and volume of trading showed no material change.

Lone Star Gas continued in fair demand, opening at 9 and holding around that figure in the early dealings. Western Public Service was quiet and narrow around last night's closing level.

Blaw-Knox reflected a more insistant demand at the start of business and moved up from 7 to 8½ on a few transactions.

Business

Aluminum Expected to Have Share in Next Upturn in Industry

By GEORGE H. SNYDER

ALUMINUM IS ONE of the industries which should participate in any general revival in business. Like other types of manufacturing it has suffered from the low rate of current activity but it has not been subject to severe competitive conditions or to price cutting. Sales have declined but there have been indications that aluminum has only started its growth and that the metal still has new markets to conquer.

Investors seeking industries which are likely to share in the next upturn in activity to the most substantial extent have only two stocks to select among the actual producers of aluminum, although there is a larger list of organizations making fabricated aluminum products. The Aluminum Company of America is the only maker of the metal in the United States. Aluminium Limited is the only maker in Canada. It also has extensive operations in Europe and was segregated from the Aluminum Company of America in 1928.

The Aluminum Company of America is expected to report that its interest requirements were earned three times in 1931, but that profits were insufficient to meet preferred dividend requirements. It earned $1.93 on the common in 1930 and $11.19 a share in 1929, the high record year. No indication of Aluminium Limited's earnings for 1931 has been given from official sources.

New Uses Being Found For Aluminum Alloys

THE STORY OF ALUMINUM has been one of the steady discovery of new markets. Before Hall's process was perfected the metal was an expensive scientific curiosity. It had no practical purpose. A small amount had actually been made into jewelry.

When a low cost method of refining the ore on a commercial basis was available, the pioneers who formed the present company still had no market. It was necessary to engage in constant research in order to find uses for the product. The success of this work is to be seen in the present size of the Aluminum Company of America. The task of finding new uses is still going on. Many important applications were found shortly before the decline in business started. Under present conditions these new markets have not been reflected in earnings for the industry.

The mention of aluminum usually calls to mind cooking utensils, aluminum paint, the frame work of the Akron and a few automobile parts. But this does not indicate the range of applications for the metal.

Aluminum Structural Beams are Perfected

IT IS ONLY in recent years that the possibilities of aluminum alloys have been realized. Research along this line has made it possible to produce aluminum structural beams with strength equal to that of steel beams of the same cross-section. Of course the weight of the aluminum beams is only a fraction of the weight of the steel beams.

At the present time efforts are being made to push the use of this type of aluminum in the construction of railroad cars and automobile trucks. The saving of weight is of particular importance when the expense of hauling the large amount of unproductive load for the entire life of the equipment is considered.

Aluminum also is finding its way into the making of office furniture, into the ornamental end of building, into the making of cables for electric power transmission and a vast number of other fields previously untouched.

Things I Never Noodl Now

(Become iggerint and get somewhere!)

That, according to the best authorities, our character (if any) is formed by the time we are 6. Our intelligence stops at 13. After that age, we gain experience—not intelligence, you dope!

That blind men do not blush. (Oh, I heard it! Put away your money, sonny boy.)

That when you sneeze you bring 50 muscles into action. ("Oooh, what swell mukkles you have!" as Adele Astaire said to R. V.)

Jean A. LeRoy invented the first machine in this country to throw film on a screen in 1893. But he neglected to patent it, losing millions. LeRoy's now a poor, but honest machinist, here.

That Zit's Weekly and the Shubert's N. Y. Review will combine.

That an ice-cream soda will often help you keep warm, since it contains as many calories as vegetables, bread, etc.

That in ancient Greece, to be considered a gentleman, you had to be good-looking. (That lets you out, Mark.)

That hard coal is softer than soft coal—less iron in it.

That the expression "Got Married" is equally as incorrect as "got dead." (You knew that before? Oh, sure!)

That one of the rougher poolrooms on New York's lower East Side gives out souvenirs. (Nail files!)

That if you use alternating current, your electric bulb is out half the time it's lit. (You figure it out, honey, I merely write 'em.)

That McCutcheon said a mouthful when he chirped: "When our boys went overseas we promised that when they got back, nothing would be too good for them—and we're keeping our promise!"

That when a Chinese asks you for a match in his lingo—he uses nearly a dozen words of Webster's to do so.

That when you see an object under water—it's not where you see it. (Now, now, don't be irritable, you'll be asleep in a minute.)

That radium, which costs thousands of dollars an ounce, eventually turns to lead. (I can do card tricks, too!)

That you can virtually erase scratches in mahogany by rubbing a bit of iodine into 'em.

That you don't have to send for California for oranges. You can grow 'em in a flower pot on your own window sill, you sill!

That the Army air force has a new infra-red ray camera which makes a clear photo of a 200-mile sq. area at one exposure.

That California is the poorest State in the Union, according to Page 294 of the U. S. Treasury Dept. Bulletin.

That when you open the window you don't let the cold air in—you let the warm air out. (Gosh, I lose patience with you!)

That 2 a. m. is when a man's resistance is at its lowest, and this is Leap Year! (You're welcome, girls.)

That handwriting as an index to character is being taken more and more seriously. (So use a typewriter, chump.)

That if Longfellow had been an accurate reporter, his poem would have begun, "Listen, my children, and you shall hear of the midnight ride of Ernest de Garis von Han"—Paul's real name.

That in some night clubs, says a wag, 2 and 2 equal 22.

LEVEYS STAR IN SPORTS

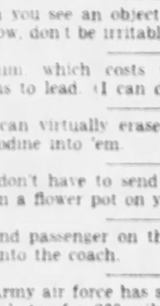
By CHARLES J. DOYLE

The brother appeal being one of the brightest sidelights of baseball, Pittsburgh fans will be interested in an East End family which has three boys, one of whom is in the majors, another on the way, and still another in the making.

The three boys are members of the Levey family, of 1422 Mellon street, East End. At the home yesterday it was disclosed that Shortstop Jimmy Levey, 24, of the St. Louis Browns, was signed up for 1932 and awaiting the training bell which will ring for him in a few weeks. Gerald Levey, 21, one of the leading sandlot infielders of the Pittsburgh district, has signed with the Wichita Falls Club, of the Texas League, while many scouts are sure to be on the trail of Howard (Howdie) Levey, 19, the baby of the trio and a football star of Peabody High School, who expects to graduate this summer.



Bill Regan

MAY BE BROTHER ACT

Jimmy Levey, after preparing on the Brownie farm at Wichita Falls, played for Bill Killefer at St. Louis last year, where he made a fine impression.

In the event that Gerald continues to show the form he flashed on the semi-pro diamond he is likely to advance to the majors and he will land on the same team that features Brother Jim. The St. Louis club controls the Wichita Falls team. Gerald, like Jim, is a crack shortstop, but either of them can play the keystone sacks.

Howdie has also shown his diamond wares on the semi-pro parks, but he will not get down to baseball in earnest until he graduates. He was one of the best quarterbacks in the history of Peabody High.

REGAN AWAITS BELL

Another popular Pittsburgh diamond star who awaits the training bell is Bill Regan, Oakland athlete, who spent a short period with the Pirates of last year. Bill finished the season with Baltimore, where he proved to be a topliner both at bat and in the field.

Regan was unfortunate enough to twist one of his ankles badly after he reached the Paso Robles camp last year. He was unable to do anything for several weeks and when the season opened he was not in top condition.

TRACK CARNIVAL PLANNED HERE

Plans for a big indoor track and field meet for colleges, schools and club teams, to be held some time during March, were revealed last night by Jack Kennard, athletic director of the Keystone A. C., speaking during the Sports Quiz and Trained Seals period over Station WCAE, the Voice of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

The meet will be held under the auspices of the Keystone Club, probably at Motor Square Garden, and will be the first event of its kind in years to be staged here. Kennard also announced as part of his program a marathon race on Memorial Day and spoke of the feasibility of establishing a foundation for athletes at the club.

Other speakers on the program included Howard Harpster, all-America quarterback at Carnegie Tech in 1928, who related his football experiences as a player and a coach; Dr. L. G. Beinhauer, who turned the tables to quiz Harry Keck, sports editor of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, who was master of ceremonies, and Jack Keough, sports announcer and director of special programs for WCAE.

The next broadcast of the Trained Seals of the sports department will be at 7 o'clock next Wednesday evening.

SOCCER REPLAY HERE SUNDAY

By TOM BIRKS

Fans will have a super-feature soccer attraction on Sunday when Bridgeville and the Shannon Morrys clash at South Park in the National Amateur Cup replay. These elevens battled to a scoreless tie last Sunday at Bridgemont, and the fans anticipate plenty of scoring.

Feeling that the largest crowd of the season will wend its way to the popular park, special arrangements are being made to handle the crowd. No parking will be allowed at the Bridge entrance to the grounds, so that the fans will have easy access to the field. Extra policemen have been assigned to handle the crowds.

Another new move which will find favor for the soccer followers is the banning of the crowd on the playing field before the game, and also during the interval. A 20-foot roadway of ashes has been placed around the field.

The game will be called at 2:30 p. m. with Pete McArdle in charge.

VERGEZ GETS RAISE

ALAMEDA, Cal., Jan. 14 (AP)—Baseball's list of player salary slashes has left Johnny Vergez, New York Giants third baseman, high and dry and satisfied. The rookie, who went up from the Oakland club of the Coast League last year to become a star in one season, will receive a substantial raise in pay for the 1932 season.

(Adapted from the original motion picture story of W. R. Burnett; With screen play by John I. Mahin; produced by Cosmopolitan Productions and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer)

CHAPTER VII

Mickey looked admiringly at his dad. There was no one like his dad. No, sir! He sat on his dad's knee and his dad's good arm was about his waist and he gazed and gazed, his mouth wide open. Mary was on the arm of the chair.

"'And although Capt. Fitzpatrick's wound is not serious,'" she was reading from a newspaper, "'he will be confined to his home for at least a week.' He refused to comment on the capture of the three men beyond his one characteristic statement:

"'Why should everybody get excited 'bout because a man does his job?'"

"That's a lot of sassidge," muttered Jim, somewhat embarrassed.

"Come on, daddy, tell us how you got them muggs!" exclaimed Mickey. Jim looked at him sternly.

"Where'd you hear that word 'muggs,' he asked.

"Oh, Uncle Ed uses that all the time," sang out Mickey. "An' molls an' broads an'—"

"Shut up!" commanded Jim. "Where's Ed, anyway?"

"Here's an editorial," continued Mary, ignoring the question. "Listen to it. It was a surprise when Captain 'Fightin' Jim' Fitzpatrick was transferred to the Glendale precinct. But the manner in which Captain Fitzpatrick dealt with the first serious problem to confront him there was no surprise at all. If the growing cancer of lawlessness in this city is to be cured, it is only by such bulldog therapeutics as Jim Fitzpatrick administers that it can be done. For months we have suggested a new head of the Police Department, which stinks now with drugstore perfume. 'Fightin' Fitz knows the department and its men. He knows the city's criminals. We suggest to the Mayor that he stop looking and listening and ACT. Oh, Jim! Isn't that grand."

"Newspaper hooey," muttered Jim.

ED PAYS VISIT

"Come on, tell us how you got them guys," insisted Mickey.

Jim looked at him solemnly.

"Well," he said finally, smiling. "You see, Little Red Ridin' Hood was going to her grandma's with a big basket under her arm, when the big wolf—"

"Aw, daddy, come on," whimpered Mickey.

"Say! You're just a rookie copper, y'hear. Jump down and salute and then run upstairs and get my pipe and tobacco. Attention!"

"Yes sir!" exclaimed Mickey. He slid down, saluted and then did an about-face and ran up the stairs.

"Don't read any more of that stuff in front of the kid," said Jim.

"But I'm so excited!" exclaimed Mary. "Maybe you will be chief, Jim!"

"Not a chance," sighed Jim. He cocked an ear. "Who's that?"

"Just me," came a voice, and Ed rushed into the room.

"Good God, Jim!" he exclaimed. "Are you hurt?" I just heard about it. Was out on a junkie deal—been workin' day and night and then I picked up the newspaper. Where'd they lug you?"

Synopsis

Pretty Daisy Beaumont is sentenced to a long term in a reformatory when dishonest policemen give false testimony against her. Jim Fitzpatrick, police captain, noted for his honesty, succeeds in having Daisy freed. Four racketeers are found murdered and Fitzpatrick suspects Guiseppe Belmonte overlord of a huge vice ring. Belmonte is arrested by Fitzpatrick but succeeds in being released in a hurry. Ed Fitzpatrick, sergeant of the vice squad, promises to help his brother Jim to bring Belmonte to justice. They discover that Daisy is employed by the vice leader. Ed admires Daisy and visits her. She says she is appreciative of what Jim did for her. Jim is transferred to a quiet precinct. When a bank is held up he pursues the robbers with several other officers.

Now Go On

"Nothin' at all," shrugged Jim. "A little flesh wound in the arm—that's all. Sure you was on a junkie deal? You must have been workin' hard to look the way you do. You're all washed out."

"Hard work, running down those junkies," grinned Ed. "But I'm sure glad you're not hurt bad. And boy, what they are saying about you in the newspapers! That's goin' to start somethin'. Wait and see. Everybody at headquarters has been sore since they sent you to Glendale. The chief ain't gettin' any co-operation at all. The boys are just leavin' him and lettin' it go at that. He don't know whether he's comin' or goin'."

"Well, I don't wish him any hard luck and I ain't selfish, but I wish he was goin' out in Jim."

"He will be—don't worry," said Ed.

NO NEW CLUES

Jim looked up suddenly at his brother and then asked:

"You haven't found out anything about that Dopey affair, have you Ed?"

Ed sat down, picked up a section of the newspaper and pretended to read, holding it before his face.

"Why—no," he said from behind his rampart. "It's funny, too. But Belmonte keeps himself pretty well covered. I haven't landed a line on anything yet, but I have hopes."

"Ho-hum!" You'll settle down some day, kid," smiled Jim and yawned.

Jim asked Ed about the murder case.

Humpy the Mushroom looked entirely out of place in Belmonte's lavishly appointed salon.

"Well, rat," said Belmonte leisurely as he reached for a glass of sparkling red chianti. "Where have you been for the last week?"

"De bulls is been trailin' me," he whined.

"To hell with the bulls! What do I care for the bulls," said Belmonte. "That's as far as they can go. But we make our own laws. When we're through they throw you in a box—see?"

Humpy mustered up his sickly grin again and nodded.

"Well, boss, I tipped dat copper off like you told me—dat Fitzpatrick guy. He t'rowed me outta a grappa joint on de river and den he begin to pump me. I told 'im what you said—about dat blonde— an' he fell for it hard."

"That's okay. I know he did," said Belmonte in a softer tone. Then he grew hard again. "Now get out—but I want to hear from you every day—I got things to do. Scram!"

He reached a fat hand over near a heavy silken rope which dangled beside his throne-seat and gave it a yank. Almost instantly the door at the other end of the room opened and the tall, sauve Cholo peeped in.

"Give Humpy his hat—and kick him out!" ordered Belmonte, as Humpy backed away half stumbling, half bowing as though leaving the presence of some oriental potentate. Cholo grabbed him by the coat collar and jerked him out the door.

"Now, we've got everything set for tomorrow night," said Belmonte, getting down from his seat and walking about the room.

Cholo took a seat and lighted a cigaret and said nothing.

"Daisy is going to steer that Fitzpatrick cop over to Celli's and we'll just happen in—get me?" Cholo nodded, but his lip curled slightly. Belmonte walked close to him.

"And you sap, keep your head," he said in warning tones.

"Okay, boss—but you know how I feel about that girl," he muttered, tossing his half-smoked cigaret toward the open fireplace.

"I don't give a damn how you feel. I'm runnin' this show. We'll get that chump, Fightin' Jim, through his kid brother, Ed. Wait and see. Just leave it up to me."

"I'm leavin' it up to you—but it burns me up—Daisy seems to have fallen for that copper—fallen good and hard."

"What's that got to do with it?"

"Nothin'—only my feelin's. I got some feelin's."

"Yeah? Well, we all got feelin's. You nearly queered things once before by foolin' with that blonde. She walked out on me and I had to do some fast work to get her back. But I got her in a spot now. She'll play the one-way game."

"After that?"

"After that—take the moll—what the hell do I care? But first, I want to get even with that Fitzpatrick." Then he chuckled to himself and said half aloud, "Who the hell does he think he is, that he can treat Guiseppe Belmonte that way? An' goes and plugs two o' my boys an' jams the other in jail in that bank stick-up? The newspapers say he'll be chief—huh!"

The Story of Vinegar Bill

OUT IN Detroit the other afternoon I talked at length with Frank Murphy, the Mayor of that city. He's a swell person, and it made me very happy to hear from several sources that he might be offered the nomination for the Vice-Presidency of the United States on the Democratic ticket. I doubt if it will ever come to pass, though. The man is so honest and so human that they wouldn't know quite what to do with him in Washington.

Wait a minute. Don't go away. I'm not going any further into the political situation, as it is laughingly called. What I started out to say was that I was talking to Mayor Murphy about stories.

"Frank," I said, "you haven't told me a yarn in a long time. Haven't you got a good, human interest story lurking somewhere in a corner of your mind?"

He mused for a moment. Then he nodded.

"It's about a character," he said, "a character named Vinegar Bill. Did I ever tell you about him?"

I replied that he hadn't.

"Well," he went on, "it begins this way . . ."

And he told me a wistful and strange little story. The story of Vinegar Bill . . .

* * *

Harbor Beach is a small town in Michigan. A population of some 1,500 people—perhaps a few more, perhaps a few less. Where each man is friendly to his neighbor; where each woman keeps struggling for her man. A place where they have no Broadway—and they don't know how lucky they are.

There wasn't a soul in Harbor Beach who didn't know Vinegar Bill. Funny about that nickname; it was the only thing he had been called for many, many years. Bill was more than 70 years of age, and even the oldest inhabitants of the town couldn't remember when the nickname had been slapped on him. They merely knew the reason for it—and the reason was a simple one.

The man must have had vinegar in his soul. His expression was invariably sour, and there was no one who had ever seen him smile. He growled his words instead of speaking them, and you needed no detective to tell you that this was a man who had a strong dislike for everything in it.

Understand, then, this character? Living the life of a hermit in his little hut on the outskirts of the tiny town. An old man through the years. And sour on everything—especially children.

It was the kids in the town who gave him the most misery. When he walked down the road, those children would fling taunt after taunt in his direction.

"Hello, old lemon face," they would cry. "Where you going, Vinegar Bill? If you ever looked in a mirror, I'll bet you'd crack it. Watch your step, sourface!"

Time and again Bill complained to the justice of the peace.

"Them brats are annoyin' me again," he stormed, "an' I want a stop put to it. You hear me, I want somethin' done about it!"

Whereupon the other man would shrug his shoulder.

"I'm sorry, Bill," he would reply, "but I'm afraid you'll just have to stand it. I can't put children in jail, you know. And, besides, it's all your fault. Why don't you smile and talk to them instead of always growling at them?"

Bill's response to that suggestion would be something between a snarl and a groan. And that would end the conversation.

Some three weeks before Christmas, there was an important meeting in the church one evening. The men gathered to discuss a Christmas party for the children of the town. They had to plan that far ahead because there were many things to be bought and many things to be sent for. Then, too, they talked about choosing someone to play Santa Claus.

It was the garageman who made the strangest suggestion. He told them that Bill should be asked to undertake the job.

"After all," he pointed out, "why not? It'd be a great novelty and, once they got used to it, the kids would have a lot of fun around Vinegar Bill. I think we ought to ask him."

They agreed it might not be a bad idea, but they doubted very much whether Bill would do it. So the garageman went over to find out. And he did it very cleverly.

"I know you don't like a lot of those children, Bill," he asserted, "and this is your big chance to make them stop taunting you. Once you've played Santa Claus for them, they'll never dare annoy you again. More than that, you'll really be an actor who's playing a part. Don't you see, Bill, that it's a good idea all around?"

Bill finally said he'd do it. Why, I don't know. Maybe he figured he could get in a good kick or two while the children were gathered around him . . .

* * *

Christmas Eve. The vestry room held the largest crowd it had ever had. Excited children danced around the tree again and again. Parents urged them to stop—and wished at the same time they were young enough again to do the same.

Soon there was a hush. The door opened. In walked Santa Claus—costume, beard and all.

One youngster broke the tension. He laughed loudly.

"That ain't Santa Claus," he howled derisively. "That's Vinegar Bill!"

The others took it up. Soon the room rebounded with mockery.

"Look who wants to be Santa Claus! Old lemonface! What a Santa Claus! Raspberries!"

Bill's face was grotesque. He started to say something. The garageman stepped forward and gripped his arm.

"You forget something, boys and girls," he said. "You forget this is Christmas Eve. Bill's doing this all for you. He's been lonesome all his life, that's all. He really wants to be your friend. But how can he be if you don't give him the chance?"

"He's my pal, kids. Make him yours, too. What do you say?"

The appeal met with instant success. One little girl reached up to kiss Bill. He drew back as though he were frightened. Another child held his hand. Soon they were all around him, dancing and singing and pushing him toward the tree. Suddenly he spoke.

"No more Vinegar Bill," he muttered over and over. "Just Bill now."

As he neared the tree, he tripped and fell. The children laughed. Bill was really playing now. The parents laughed. Eager hands went out to help Bill to his feet. And then the laughter stopped.

For Bill was dead. His heart had failed him—the town doctor said later. They carried him inside and removed the costume and the whiskers. Then they saw a strange thing.

In all the town, there was no one who had ever seen Vinegar Bill laugh. Now, in death, there was a smile on his face . . .

SUN-TELEGRAPH-WARNER THEATERS Junior Komic Club

The 17 Warner neighborhood theaters, having chapters of the Sun-Telegraph-Warner Theaters Junior Komic Club, are planning big meetings for Saturday, and thousands of children are counting the days to the end of the week.

Cameraphone Chapter will have, as its chief stage attraction, "The Candy Man Who Grows Tall." This novelty act has been making a big hit with the Junior Komic Club Chapters all over.

Memorial (McKeesport) Chapter, will be singularly honored Saturday by the appearance at their meeting of Mayor George H. Lysle, of McKeesport.

South Hills Chapter is all agog over the dog contest announced for Saturday. Manager Koch will give prizes for the prettiest, the ugliest, the biggest and the smallest dogs brought to the meeting.

Arsenal and Plaza Chapters will be entertained by Mascara, the magician. Mascara is a great favorite with the children. If he has not appeared at your chapter, he is on the way, and will be there within the next few weeks.

Prince (Ambridge) Chapter announced a new serial to start Saturday. That is always a signal for enthusiasm at any chapter meeting.

OTHER ATTRACTIONS

Besides all the entertainment listed above, contests will be held on the stages of the various theaters; song and dance numbers and other specialties presented by members of the club and surprise features.

Warner Theaters have a treat in store for every child attending any of the 17 chapter meetings Saturday. They have planned to distribute candy to every child. This will be in addition to door prizes and awards to winners of contests.

A new club song has been introduced, and now forms a part of the opening of all meetings.

With Congressman Frisby in Manchuria

MANCHURIA.—Good morning, friends, and, of course, Mrs. Frisby. How are you, baby? I bet you folkses back there in narrow-minded America won't understand when I tell you how the brave little Chinese women are carrying on. The above snapshot, which I made myself, shows a Chinese Tiger Woman suffering as only a Chinese Tiger Woman can suffer. But she doesn't know what it is to complain. What is she dreaming of? Who knows. Your correspondent knows, but the censorship does not permit him to talk behind people's backs.

Make It Work-Relief

County Donation Sought by Emergency Association Could Be Used to Pay for Public Works

The Welfare Fund and Emergency Association face the loss of $800,000. Gifts totaling that much were offered on condition that the two organizations collect $5,200,000 from other sources in their joint drive for $6,000,000. But they have fallen $500,000 short of raising the amount required.

There is virtually no possibility of inducing the offerers of the $800,000 to withdraw the condition and give the money without any strings, because the offers came in part from out of town corporations by vote of their boards of directors, and it is regarded as out of the question even to reconvene the boards to consider the matter.

Faced with this situation, a number of well-known and public spirited citizens have called on the County Commissioners to give $500,000 and thus permit the $800,000 to be saved and allow the two organizations to attain their goal.

The county is hard pressed for funds and the taxpayers are already sorely burdened. Yet these considerations are outweighed by the urgent necessity of relieving the distress of thousands of our fellow citizens who will suffer through no fault of their own from hunger and privation if the money which the County Commissioners are asked to appropriate is not forthcoming.

The names and reputation of the men making the request are a guarantee that the money is imperatively needed and, if granted, will be used prudently.

As an additional safeguard the County Commissioners might stipulate that the money should be used exclusively for the payment of wages to destitute men to be employed on the county's public works.

The Fair Rate Fight

Public Utilities Companies Are Placed on the Defensive by Commissioner Woodruff

George Woodruff, appointed to the Public Service Commission by Gov. Pinchot, introduced a resolution Tuesday calling for wholesale and statewide revision of electric rates to domestic consumers.

Four votes were necessary for adoption, and the resolution received only three, as three of the seven members of the commission refused to vote on it and another was absent.

The question, we are glad to say, will come up again in the near future.

In the meantime the public utilities companies which sell electric light and power have been placed on the defensive by Woodruff. In presenting his resolution he adduced facts and figures which go far towards supporting the assertion that some of the companies are charging rates that are unreasonably high.

The companies are entitled to a fair return on their investment. Woodruff contends that they would get a fair return under the schedule of rates that he proposes and points in confirmation to a company which is now charging such rates and making money.

The companies are not entitled to charge as much as they feel they can get. The people of Pennsylvania have given the public utilities valuable franchises, exemption from certain taxes and other privileges. Some of the companies have been granted a monopoly. They owe it to the public in return to give good service at the lowest rate that will assure them a fair return.

Auto Inspections

Requirements Are Somewhat Stricter This Year, Which Is Not to Be Regretted

Benjamin G. Eynon, commissioner of motor vehicles, reports that 56,947 automobiles had been inspected up to Tuesday. That is a small percentage of the total number of motor vehicles in Pennsylvania, and it is to be hoped that the owners will not put off the inspection until the last moment, as so many did in the last previous test.

The requirements this year are somewhat stricter than formerly; but that is not regrettable. For their own safety as well as the safety of the public motorists should be happy to make their cars conform to the requirements.

Efficient brakes and steering apparatus, windshields that permit clearness of vision, and headlights that are properly adjusted are essential to safe driving.

The official testing stations have been chosen carefully. There remains a possibility nevertheless that unscrupulous inspectors may ignore defects in the cars of friends to save them the cost of repair bills, or, on the other hand, may falsely report defects in order to get repair jobs. The public should guard against both.

Protection of Deposits

The Question of the Propriety of a Bank's Favoring Certain Depositors Is Again Raised

The State Banking Department has filed suit to compel the Bellevue School Board to return to the closed Citizens Trust Company of Bellevue $50,000 in bonds which had been given to protect the deposits of borough school children.

Here we have another case which raises the question of the propriety or legality of a bank's favoring certain depositors by posting part of its assets to protect their deposits. It is usually, of course, the deposits of municipalities that are so protected.

Other depositors of closed banks have protested in certain recent cases that it was unfair to them that the bank's assets should be given to favored depositors instead of being distributed pro rata among all the depositors.

It is an argument for the protection of municipal deposits through corporate surety bonds.

Let's Put THIS Picture in the Cellar

By Nelson Harding

That famous historical painting, "Washington Crossing the Delaware," has been removed from the galleries of the Metropolitan Museum of Art and stored in the basement.

The picture shown above is the one which should be relegated to the cellar. Although of more recent date, it is one with which Americans have become all too familiar.

"Administration Crossing the Atlantic" is not an inspiring work of art, and the figures are far from heroic. Unlike the soldiers of '76, these voyagers hook up to the dangerous ice floes instead of avoiding them.

The Busybodies and Cancellationists "pull for the foreign shore, sailor," while the Meddlesome Diplomat sticks his oar in.

Notice the cowering figure of the poor taxpayer. As usual, he is being taken for a ride against his will.

Let's put this picture down behind the coal bin, turn it to the wall and switch out the light.

Then restore "Washington Crossing the Delaware" to a place where Americans can still see it. N. H.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Many men and women, graying at the temples, who began to feel completely out of the whirl of the world three years ago are inspired by a new hope. They had for years been giving way to their juniors in almost every line of endeavor.

But Youth had its fling. Men past 40 were camouflaging their age in seeking work. High and mighty posts were held by the beardless. Conference rooms of industrial plants were recruited from the college campus. The New York World was wrecked by young hot heads.

Striplings in late twenties and early thirties were holding $100,000-a-year jobs. No industry seemed immune from this juvenile touch. It raged from the movies to finding new worlds. And all of a sudden things crumbled.

In the cataclysmic smashup there was a call for older, wiser and more experienced talent. Banks, corporations and the like began to remove fledglings from lofty perches and supplant them with seasoned veterans to steady collapsing affairs.

Mustaches and heads of hair dyed black are becoming white and gray again. Years have no stigma of incompetency. The saturnalia of jazz and gin evaporated and out of the mist comes a clarion cry for clear heads, steady hands and more mature wisdom.

It was noticed men who emerged unscathed from the devastation of the panic were past 50—men such as George F. Baker, Dwight Morrow, J. P. Morgan. The younger and more adventurous buckled and were, sans parachute, jumping off skyscrapers. They couldn't take it!

Already this swing from youngsters to oldsters is noticeable. In bond houses high-pressure lads are following new pursuits while middle-aged gentlemen in modulated voices are using the calmer sales talk not heard for so long. And so on up and down the mercantile line.

Cissie Loftus was on the boards this season in a character part with which she completely "ran away with the show." Years and a series of misadventures have not dimmed her effulgence. Not long ago London was whispering for her eclipse from drug addiction. Yet she came back, freed of its clutches, and received Broadway's acclaim. An illness again shunted her to obscurity, but now she is, as Broadway has it, "in circulation again" and winning top honors wherever she appears. Once the toast of Picadilly, vivacious and hoydenish, she has become a benign, soft-voiced figure with a sweetly sad smile—a true Lady of Sorrows out of sentimental fiction.

* * *

Miss Loftus is best in mimicry. She can change herself from an absurd Cockney woman selling heather along the Strand into an imperious Barrymore throatily intoning: "That's all their is." And she does it with mere grimaces. A flutter of an eyelid transforms her into an exuberant Sophie Tucker and a tilt of the head becomes a living pastel of George M. Cohan strutting across stage.

LISTEN, WORLD

By Elsie Robinson

What's all this talk about a Federal Department of Education? Why is there such an uproar when it is suggested in Congress? Haven't we the best schools in the world? Then why should the federal government come butting in?

No, we haven't the best schools in the world—nor the second, nor the third best. Some of our states have very fine educational systems. Some have middlin' fair systems. Some have outrageously poor systems, with large areas where there are no schools at all.

AS A CONSEQUENCE, AMERICA HAS ONE OF THE HIGHEST RECORDS OF ILLITERACY AMONGST CIVILIZED NATIONS.

But won't the states attend to that?

The answer to that is short and snappy. We are over 150 years old. Washington was born 200 years ago this year. But the states HAVEN'T attended to this matter yet, nor are most of them showing any serious intentions of getting around to it.

But suppose we do install a Department of Education in Washington, D. C. and give it the right to standardize our school systems and go after the illiterate districts—won't that violate our "states rights" agreement and put dangerous power into the hands of the government? And, gosh-knows, isn't there enough meddling already?

That's what several gentlemen in Washington think, and their irate states are backing them.

BUT IF THAT ARGUMENT IS TRUE IT SHOULD APPLY TO ALL IMPORTANT STATE CONCERNS.

It should apply to our farms, our orchards, our live stock, our highways, our labor rates, our finance, our methods of transportation. Surely if a school is a "state affair," so's a peach tree, so's a bus, so's a pig, so's a carpenter's pay and the hours he works. But that isn't the way it works. No indeed!

For instance, consider pigs. Our states consider pigs very much worth considering. They realize that pigs mean money and that pig cholera means plenty of trouble and loss. And they are not only willing, but they are even eager to have the federal government protect their pigs.

Moreover, if one lazy, backward state got uppity about pigs and refused to be protected, the other states would very soon see that it stepped into line. For they don't intend that an ornery neighbor shall endanger their property; hence they accept and install federal control.

So it goes down the line. We have Departments of Agriculture, Commerce, Labor, Finance and Justice at Washington, all of them putting a finger into the state pie with never a protest. But when it comes to the children—that's something different.

WHY, ARE NOT ITS CHILDREN AS VALUABLE TO A STATE AS ITS PIGS, ITS PEACHES, ITS TRAINS AND BUSES, ITS WAGE EARNERS?

IS NO ILLITERACY AS GRAVE A MENACE AS PEACH BLIGHT OR PIG CHOLERA OR LABOR BATTLES?

How important is your child's education to you? Very important, the most precious concern on earth. But do you not realize the stupidity and viciousness of the uneducated children on the other side of your state line will bring to naught your child's education—will force your child to live in a dark and criminal world?

You're willing to accept federal control of agriculture in order to keep your neighbor's pigs from infecting your pigs; yet you fight the federal control which would keep your neighbor's children from poisoning the lives of your children!

"State rights"—a glorious theory.

BUT HAVE STATES WHICH CAN'T BE TRUSTED TO KEEP LIVESTOCK CLEAN, OR FRUIT TREES HEALTHY, OR WAGES FAIR — HAVE SUCH STATES "THE RIGHT" TO "BRING UP CHILDREN THE WAY THEY PLEASE," WHEN THEIR WAY OF BRINGING THEM UP SPREADS IGNORANCE AND CRIME THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY?

The Paramount Issue: Shall People Starve?

By Claude G. Bowers

Author of "The Struggle for Democracy in America," "Founders of the Republic," "Jefferson and Democracy," "The Tragic Era" and other important works, now writing for The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

Just at this juncture, when the international bankers are on the defensive before the public, it would hardly seem the time to assume a dictatorial attitude toward governmental entities, that are sound, in the matter of loans. Mr. Lamont, of Morgan & Co., has issued a statement in reply to the attack of Mayor Walker, of New York, which is so very restrained that it suggests that everything that occurred in the conference between the bankers and the Mayor is not set forth quite frankly.

Mr. Lamont speaks of the necessity of curtailing expenses but does not say specifically where the cuts are to be made. He does say that no "concrete" proposal was made in reference to increasing the subway fare on the people, but this does not answer the charge that one or more of the participants in the conference did bring this up.

It is common knowledge that the bankers concerned are personally interested in an increased fare. Senator Copeland refers to this personal financial interest:

"The truth is that these banks and their stockholders own stock in the transit lines, and if the 10 cent fare goes through it will mean a big jump in the value of these stocks."

Neither the Mayor nor the municipal government will betray the people by submitting to any dictation from that quarter on that subject.

* * *

Recklessness of American Bankers

After all, the bankers, sagely discussing sound business or banking principles, are suggestive of the devil reproving sin. They have made a sorry mess of their loans in Europe. It was not sound banking. It was such bad banking that it is now proposed to make good on these private loans by putting the governmental debts of 14 nations on the backs of the American taxpayers.

Apropos of the carelessness or recklessness of these international bankers in the matter of loans to foreign interests and municipalities and states, we have this sharp rebuke from S. Parker Gilbert, the former agent general for reparations:

"I am constantly amazed at the recklessness of American bankers in offering to the public the securities of German states on the basis of the purely German view of Article 248 of the Treaty of Versailles."

* * *

Means Starvation For Thousands

The City of New York is engaged on a large building program—which costs money. Nothing is being built that is not actually needed. It has also done its part toward the prevention of starvation of women and children by appropriating money from the treasury for the purpose.

If this building program is curtailed or abandoned it means loss of employment to thousands thereon engaged, and the lengthening of the line of 800,000 jobless men who would be thrown on charity.

And if it closes down on relief for human misery it means suffering and starvation for women, children and old men.

It means just this, because the national administration refuses positively to do anything that costs it money for the prevention of starvation.

Instead it has called upon municipalities, counties and states to shoulder the duty of taking care of a national situation, which the nation's government refuses to touch.

With the Hoover administration washing its hands of human misery and calling on the minor governmental units to "see that no one starves," the bankers now call upon these minor governmental units to stop spending money for that purpose for there is where extraordinary cost of government comes in.

Between the national administration and the bankers it seeks to serve in the matter of debts, there appears to be no consideration for the most dangerous situation affecting the lives of human beings.

* * *

'Unprecedented Destitution'

The City of New York has appropriated millions to prevent suffering and starvation, and yet it has been necessary to close 79 home relief stations because of the lack of funds. Last week alone food tickets were issued to the amount of $105,000, and since November 1 to the amount of $498,252.

Since the first of November checks in payment of rent have been issued by relief organizations to the amount of $98,601, and yet families are being dispossessed of shelter at an alarming rate. Last week alone dispossess notices were served on 2,300 families in one city.

The conditions in that one city, where the local government has done more than any other local unit in the country, and, of course, more than the federal government, which does nothing, are described by these welfare organizations as of "unprecedented destitution." And these organizations sound this warning:

"In spite of all that is being done, thousands of men, women and children will face starvation unless every dollar and private funds that can possibly be secured are made available at once. The delay of a single day means bitter tragedy."

Under these conditions is the richest city in the world to close down on improvements and turn more men out upon the streets and close down on relief and let women and children starve?

* * *

Federal Government Must Find the Funds

There are people so "business-like" that they can figure in cold blood that it is cheaper to bury the unfortunate than to feed them. But may we suggest to the administration at Washington that it is not "the American way?"

It started out with the ringing declaration that "no one in America will be permitted to starve."

It followed this up with the assertion that the small governmental units and individual charity must make the administration declaration good.

It followed this with an even more fervent declaration that no money from the national treasury should or would be used to prevent the starvation it had said should not be permitted.

Assuming its sincere belief that private charity and the appropriations of minor governmental units could provide adequately for the treatment of a national problem it knows better now.

Private charity has furnished only a drop in the bucket, and the President's commission has completed its work; it is raising no more funds.

Many minor governmental units have appropriated as much as they can, and there are no more funds to be had from that source.

If, on top of this, the banks are to insist that a rich city like New York can borrow money only on condition that it discontinues public works and appropriations to feed the starving, there is only one possible solution—the federal government must find the funds with which to supplement those of communities where women and children are facing starvation and are being dispossessed of shelter.

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

Is the dollar your god?

Irrespective of the sorrow and privation you cause others do you demand your pound of flesh?

You try not to have dealings with your few friends, which might require you to be hard, but if they thwart your desire for financial gain, they must suffer as you demand.

Perhaps you loaned money to a friend when money was easier than now.

Ordinarily he would have paid you long ago.

But he has been pinched as many others are at present.

Are you relentlessly demanding that he pay, when he must sacrifice his possessions at a fraction of their real value to do so?

Why not be a real fellow and give him a chance?

It is not disputed that he owes you, but do you want to ruin him because of your demands?

Exercise a little human feeling and give him an opportunity to save what he can from his property.

You probably will not actually suffer if he does not pay you now, but he and his family may be reduced to actual want.

HOMESTEAD BRIDGE BILL SPEEDED IN CONGRESS

VOTE EXPECTED ON $3,000,000 SPAN MONDAY

Campbell Measure Reported Out of Committee, U. S. Aids Early Construction

Authorization of construction of the proposed Homestead Pittsburgh high level bridge was practically assured today, with the favorable report on the bill by the Interstate Commerce Committee in the House.

The committee yesterday reported out the bill which was presented by Representative Guy E. Campbell.

Representative Campbell said he would ask for a vote on it Monday.

HEARING ON PLANS

The War Department, it was learned, has no objection to the location of the bridge, which would replace the obsolete Brown's Bridge across the Monongahela River. However, Army engineers will have to approve plans before the contract can be awarded by Allegheny County. A hearing on the plans has been set for January 19 at Homestead.

The County Commissioners have approved the spending of $3,000,000 for the bridge and, it was pointed out by Campbell that they are eager to begin construction as soon as possible in order to provide added employment.

Senator James J. Davis will handle the bill when it reaches the Senate.

TEXT OF BILL

The text of the bill is as follows:

"Granting the consent of Congress to the Board of Commissioners of Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, to construct, maintain, and operate a free highway bridge across the Monongahela River between the city of Pittsburgh and the Borough of Homestead, Pennsylvania.

NEW MUNHALL HIGH STRIKE NEAR END

Settlement Expected Today On Wage Dispute Delaying Construction of School

Settlement of the strike which has been delayed completion of the new Munhall Junior High School for the last four weeks was expected at a meeting scheduled for today by the Master Builders' Association, in the Fulton Building, according to W. C. Hodder, president of the Hodder Construction Company, contractors on the school project.

Officials of the Bricklayers' Union called their men off the school job when they were informed that the men were not being paid the full union scale.

Union investigators allege that workmen were receiving full wages but were required to return part of their pay, as a result of an agreement between them and the contractor.

Work on the school building in Woodlawn avenue, Hammett Plan, Munhall, has been halted because other workmen are forced to await completion of the brick work.

The Munhall School Board, it was learned, has no authority to act in the dispute.

NEW SCHEDULES AND TRACKS PROPOSED

Grade Crossing Relocation In Forest Hills Sought; Meeting in Wilkinsburg

Present status of the street car situation in East communities includes these developments:

1—Application by the Pittsburgh Railways Company to the Public Service Commission to relocate grade crossings in Forest Hills.

2—Meeting today between railways company and representatives of East Boroughs to consider proposed change in trolley schedule for Verona, Wilkinsburg, North Braddock and Wilmerding.

3—Request of West Penn Railways Company to Public Service Commission for permission to abandon its Walnut street line between McKeesport and Versailles.

Applications have been placed with the Public Service Commission in Harrisburg by the Pittsburgh Railways Company for permission to "relocate, reconstruct and construct" grade crossings on Ardmore boulevard at Filmore street, Newport road, Bevington road, Braddock road and Fairfax road in Forest Hills.

Officials of the company explained yesterday that the application was made in order to permit the company to establish permanent tracks.

SCHEDULE CHANGES

A meeting was to be held today on request of Wilkinsburg Council, between the railways company and representatives of Wilkinsburg, Wilmerding and North Braddock. The meeting will consider the company's proposed change of schedule.

It would provide that Verona cars turn at Franklin avenue and Wood street, Wilkinsburg, instead of at Hutchison street, Regent square; night car operating between Bell and Jones avenues, North Braddock, be discontinued, and shuttle routes on Library street, Braddock, and Rebecca street, Wilkinsburg, be reduced to peak runs only.

These changes, originally ordered for this week, will not go into effect, at least until after today's meeting, it was learned at the railways company.

ANSWER AWAITED

John Rhodes, president of Wilkinsburg Council, yesterday said that he had not received an answer from the street car company on Council's request that an express service run over Ardmore boulevard between Wilkinsburg and East Pittsburgh.

The request to abandon their line between McKeesport and Versailles was made by the West Penn Railways Company because of falling revenues.

In its application to the Public Service Commission, the company pointed out that McKeesport is anxious to repave Walnut street and that its share of the paving costs would be approximately $109,000.

UNION AT BRADDOCK

Braddock Ham Hudson's leader in the Section VIII race will strive for its second league victory tomorrow when it entertains Pixy Miller's Turtle Creek Union passers at Braddock. ## 175-YEAR-OLD CHAIR

SPINNINGWHEEL NOW CHAIR

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Orner, of 733 Hazelwood avenue, have in their possession a chair made from a spinning wheel more than 155 years old. It was used by Mr. Orner's great-great-grandmother in the old Dutch settlement of Beavertown, now Snyder County, about the middle of the eighteenth century.

The only part of the chair not made from the spinning wheel is the seat. The chair was constructed more than 50 years ago by Mr. Orner's uncle, Grantson Camp, who was a cabinet maker. Both of Orner's daughters, Phyllis, 19, and Dorothy, 17, want the chair some day. Mrs. Orner said:

"It will be a toss-up between them."

COUNCIL DELAYS BLOOMFIELD PROTEST

Report Awaited on Warning Of Trade Board on Peril In Lack of Traffic Police

Because of the closing of the 1932 budget, City Council has been unable to take action on the warning from the Bloomfield Board of Trade that the decrease in personnel of the police department would deprive school children and pedestrians in that section of traffic safety.

Public Safety Director Clark also had given Council a similar warning.

Both communications, it was learned at the City-County Building, have been referred to Councilman Michael J. Muldowney, chairman of the committee on public safety. A report from this committee was expected this week.

A check-up of traffic policemen at crossing near schools is now being made by the Parent-Teacher Association under the direction of Mrs. C. A. Rehtmeyer, head of the city council of the organization, to determine what effect the police shake-up has had on the efficiency of traffic regulation.

Mrs. Rehtmeyer said:

"As far as we know, all traffic policemen on duty near the schools have not been removed. It is absolutely necessary to the safety of the children to keep patrolmen stationed near the dangerous school crossings."

She added that no laxity as yet had been noted in the East End district.

City Council's public works committee will decide this week if the Bloomfield district is to have a swimming pool and bath house. It was pointed out in a petition sent to Council by the Bloomfield District Italian Citizens' League last week that the district has a population of 2,500 and has no proper recreation facilities. The petition was signed by 724 residents.

SQUIRREL HILL SPEEDS RELIEF FOR NEEDY

Trade Board Provides Jobs And Food; Ask Residents To Give 25 Cents a Week

The Squirrel Hill Board of Trade Relief Association added several new features to its relief work this week. Cordwood is being cut and sold to give employment to men; free haircuts are being given, and everyone living in the Fourteenth Ward who is employed is urged to subscribe 25 cents a week to aid the relief in their community.

Loads of uncut wood are bought by the association and men of needy families are given work cutting the wood into fireplace sizes. The wood is then sold to persons in the district.

Upon application at the headquarters of the associations orders are given needy persons for haircuts. The Squirrel Hill barber shop has agreed to cut free the hair of any person sent by the relief group.

The committee believes that if all persons in the ward who are employed would subscribe only 25 cents a week until April it would carry the work through the winter.

The association is attending to every need of the unfortunate families in the ward. Free medical attention and prescriptions are given, a shoemaker has been secured for full time work at the headquarters, and food, clothing, coal and other needs are given upon application.
